QUANTRELL'S MOTHER DEAD

She Passes Away at Odd Fellow's Home in Illinois.

CANAL DOVER, O., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The closing incident of the famous Quantrell story took place yesterday when the death of Mrs. Caroline Clark Quantrell, mother of the noted confederate chieftain, occurred in the Odd Fellows' home, at Springfield, Ill. She was 85 years old.

Mrs. Quantrell was born in Somerset county, Pa., but moved here shortly after her marriage. William Clark, the favorite son, lived his youth here and taught school. Mrs. Quantrell has been in very poor circumstances but her pride and the memory of her son would not let her enter a home until she was driven to it by ill health three years ago.

DARK HORSE GETS PLACE

Governor Suprises all by Making Democrat Supreme Court Judge.

FAVORITES PASSED BY

Samuel Gustine Thompson Gets Place Over Many Republican Aspirants.

WAS ON BENCH BEFORE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 25.

Samuel Gustine Thompson, Democrat, of Philadelphia, was today appointed by Gov. Pennypacker to the vacancy in the state supreme court created by the recent death of Chief Justice McCollum.

The appointment runs until the first Monday of January, 1905, and was announced by the governor just before leaving for Pennypacker Mills to spend Thanksgiving day with his family.

Mr. Thompson's name has never been mentioned in connection with this vacancy, and the announcement of his appointment came as a surprise to the Republican leaders of this locality, all of whom had indorsed Lyman D. Gilbert of this city. Mr. Gilbert was believed to be the choice of Senator Quay and other Republican state leaders, although Senator Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham were, it is said, opposed to him, being favorable to President Judge Rice of the superior court.

Samuel Gustine Thompson, who by this appointment returns to the supreme court bench to which he was previously appointed 10 years ago, was born in Venango county. His father, James Thompson, was a justice of the supreme court for 15 years, during the last six of which he served as chief justice. Mr. Thompson received his education at the Erie academy and the University of Pennsylvania.

In January, 1861, he was admitted to the bar and speedily won a place for himself.

He inherited his politics as well as his predilection for the law and has been at all times and in all seasons a consistent but conservative Democrat. He has at no period of his long and honorable career been a seeker after public office. The one public position he has held outside of his judicial office was the unsalaried honor of commissioner of Fairmount park, to which, in 1887, he was appointed to succeed Prof. E. Coppes Mitchell. "Gustine lake" in the park was named in his honor.

Mr. Thompson has always taken a deep and lively interest in political affairs. In the exciting presidential contest of 1876-77 he visited Florida in the interest of Samuel J. Tilden. In 1890 he was elected president of the Democratic association, and in 1892 was a delegate to the convention that nominated Grover Cleveland. He was appointed to the supreme bench in March, 1893, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Chief Justice Edward M. Paxson and the promotion of Justice Sterrit to the chief justiceship. He was defeated for reelection by D. Newlin Fell.

Mr. Thompson is a director of the Philadelphia & Erie railroad, auditor of the Philadelphia Savings Fund society, trustee of Jefferson Medical college, manager of the Forrest Home, and president of the Renovo, Philadelphia & Erie Land Co.

"I really haven't anything to say about it," said Governor Pennypacker when pressed to give his reasons for appointing a Democrat to be supreme court judge. "I refer you to Mr. Thompson's record." Further than this the governor refused to say anything about the appointment.

"Does this appointment mean that Mr. Thompson will be nominated by the Republican state convention next summer?" was asked.

"I don't know anything about that," replied the governor.

BANK FORCED TO CLOSE.

Could Not Meet Demand of a Depositor—Securities Are Good.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Nov. 25.—The Pine Grove bank of Pine Grove, Wetzel county, closed its doors today after a meeting of the stockholders and directors. It is a state institution, capitalized at $25,000, and had $30,000 on deposit, nearly all of which is invested in safe securities, leaving little cash on hand.

A heavy demand by a depositor could not be met and thus the bank was forced to quit business. The directorate claim all obligations will be paid in full, but the bank will not likely reopen.

PHYSICIAN CHARGED WITH MURDERING GIRL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Dr. Joseph C. Ohlendorf, a physician who has an office at 1233 Pennsylvania avenue and conducts a sanitarium at Brentwood, Md., was arrested at the latter place today and held without bail on the charge of murdering Margaret Hale, a young girl formerly employed as a bookbinder in the government office, who died at the sanitarium last Monday. The arrest was made after the autopsy which was held at Hyattsville, Md., today. The girl said that she was a cousin of Senator Hale of Maine. Her home is in Marietta, O.

Man Lost During Trial Test.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The cruiser Denver, which failed to make the required 17 knots an hour at a recent test, returned today after a two days' trial, having made 16:60 against a heavy wind and 18 knots before the wind. Frank Craig, a draughtsman employed by the builders, fell overboard Monday night and was lost.

FITZ AWARDED THE DECISION

Goes Route With Gardner and Is Given the Verdict.

FOUGHT 20 ROUNDS

Gardner Clinched Often to Save Himself and Both Men Were Very Tired.

THE ROUNDS GIVEN IN DETAIL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 25.—In the match tonight between Fitzsimmons and Gardner, Fitzsimmons won because he scored all the knock-downs and because he did the cleaner punching of the pair. Gardner fought a slovenly fight and few of his punches seemed to have either strength or speed behind them.

As a matter of fact, he was tapping Fitz almost continuously and leaving the impression that he was looking for an opening, which never came. Fitz is as tricky as ever, but not nearly so fast nor forceful. He reached Gardner with his famous left shift, both on the head and on the body, and had him on the floor repeatedly.

Fitzsimmons also reached Gardner's cheek and temple with full sweeps of his right arm. Any one of these punches in Fitz' old days would have meant a knockout. Yet Gardner was always able to get up within the time limit and keep battling on in a clumsy, amateurish fashion. Fitz tired very easily, and it began to look as if Gardner would wear him down.

Bitter Battle to End.

In the concluding rounds of the fight Fitz was circling around the ring, with Gardner in pursuit. Several times, after resting his arms thoroughly, Fitz knocked Gardner down with left shifts or right swings. Gardner kept pegging away with a left body punch. He used both hands on Fitz' mid-section in the clinches, but did not seem to hurt the Cornishman to any extent.

Referee Graney said it was one of the worst fights he ever witnessed. It simply suggested that the Fitzsimmons of a few years ago would have finished Gardner in a single round. Gardner's poor showing is inexplicable. It is just possible that after he had been felled a couple of times in the early rounds his confidence forsook him.

The big pavilion of the Yosemite club was only fairly filled, a great contrast to the usual state of affairs when Fitzsimmons has fought here before. "Lanky Bob" has always been a great favorite here, although the contest tonight did not fill the arena to its utmost capacity. Fitzsimmons was installed the favorite in the betting. During the day he ruled favorite at 10 to 9, but toward evening the rumor circulated that he was not in prime condition and Gardner went up to even money.

Fight Started Promptly.

Later Fitzsimmons' admirers came forward with their coin and when the men entered the ring the betting was 10 to 9 in Fitzsimmons' favor. It was notable that the usual number of outside patrons of the prize ring were absent tonight. The 6,000 people were with few exceptions from San Francisco.

The fight started promptly on schedule time, with Eddie Graney as referee. The first three rounds were even, but in the fourth Fitz floored Gardner twice, and had him in a bad way.

Round 1—Fitzsimmons feinted and Gardner drew away. They worked around each other, sparring cautiously. Fitz drove a right left for the head, missing. Gardner got in a right and they clinched. Fitz missed with left for ribs. Gardner got back from a left shift for the body. Gardner was short with the left and right at head.

Round 2—Fitz began feinting. Gardner danced back. Fitzsimmons forced Gardner across the floor, but did not lead. Both men were short with lefts at the face and both missed with rights at the body and clinched. Fitz tried a shift and they came to a clinch. Gardner swung his right over the kidneys twice. Fitz feinted and clinched. Fitz landed on stomach with a hard left. He fell to his haunches in a rally, but not from a blow. Gardner was cautioned to go steadily. He was eager now. Fitz placed a hard right on the ribs and Gardner sent his left solidly into the stomach. Gardner landed left on head and right on stomach and got under a left swing. Fitz made a fierce right swing at the head. Gardner caught it on the shoulder. Fitz got in a left on the stomach, which was not overhard.

Gardner Easily Floored.

Round 3—Fitz got to Gardner's ribs with a right hard, left and right on body and right on cheek. Gardner put in a right and left on the stomach. Fitz grazed Gardner's nose with

ENEMY SUSPECTED OF KILLING OPERATOR

Clendenin's Mysterious Death Attributed to Love, Jealousy and Hatred.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., Nov. 25.—A story of love, jealousy, hatred and duplicity which points the finger of suspicion towards a man for whom a score of detectives are searching as the murderer of Operator William Clendenin was related today by the mother of the murdered man.

"I guess Will had an enemy," said the mother. "This man once worked with Will, and a frequent visitor to the office was the man's wife. That's the way Will came to know her. Finally, because of his habits, the man lost his place, and Will was given the job. This man went away and tramped over the country, coming back at times to see his wife.

"Will told me the story of this man's dogging him. 'Why,' he said, 'you have no idea how that man has dogged and bled me. He's followed me from place to place, finding out somehow where I worked; he would come into the tower or office where I was working and demand money, threatening to do certain things if he didn't get it. But I am sick and tired of it, and I have made up my mind that I won't be bled by him any more. He's got all the money out of me that he's going to get.' Not long ago Will told me this woman had applied for a divorce. She sent a box of flowers for Will's funeral."

SOCIETY WOMEN ACTIVE IN BEHALF OF LOUISE

Former Crown Princess of Saxony to Receive Magnificent Christmas Gift.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

DRESDEN, Nov. 25.—A strong movement has been started by prominent society women of this city in favor of former Crown Princess Louise of Saxony, who eloped with Giron. This movement is exceedingly disagreeable to King George and his family, who do not even the allow the name of the princess to be pronounced in the royal palace.

A committee was recently sent to the king for the purpose of trying to induce him to let his former daughter-in-law see her children at Christmas, but as the king refused to receive the members of the committee it was resolved that a very valuable Christmas present should be sent to the former crown princess by thousands of society women all over Saxony.

It has not yet been decided what this present will be, but several thousand marks have already been collected and a committee is preparing an address, the contents of which will be published in all the newspapers of Saxony, though the court is making strenuous efforts to prevent its publication.

FORMER MAYOR OF YORK ENTERS PRIESTHOOD

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 25.—The Rev. George F. Gibson, formerly mayor of York, curate at St. Luke's Episcopal church here, and the Rev. Francis Huber, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Minersville, Pa., were admitted to the priesthood and George Edward Faber of Altoona, was made a deacon at a triple ordination service, conducted at St. Luke's church here today by Bishop Ethelbert Talbot of the Episcopal church.

GIRL ROUGHLY "HAZED"

Was Knocked Down by Classmates in Baltimore Female School.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Thirty young women of the graduating class of the Western Female High school will be excluded by the school commissioners from participating in class exercises or the annual commencement, as a result of the attack made upon Lolia Bangert, a classmate.

She was a member of the graduating class, and claiming that she had "poached" on some of the girls, a number of her classmates attacked her as she was leaving the High school. They pursued her several squares, knocked her down and committed other indignities. Thirty of the girls in the class, it is said acknowledged having taken part in the "hazing," as they termed it, of Miss Bangert.

They stated that they only intended to lead Miss Bangert around the block with a sign upon her that she had "told on her classmates" and that they had no intention of subjecting her to any further indignities.

FOREIGN MINISTERS SIGNED THE ARTICLES

United States Will Hold Dominican Revolutionists to Terms Surrender.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN DOMINGO, Nov. 25.—The articles of the capitulation of San Domingo were signed by President Wos y Gil and the ministers of the United States, Belgium, Haiti and Spain. The conditions provide full guarantee for the protection of the inhabitants and all property. The revolutionists entered the city yesterday afternoon and the provisional government will remove from Santiago de Los Caballeros to the capital within five days.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—It is the intention of the department to hold the new revolutionary government to all engagements respecting arbitrations and American concessions which were entered into under the administration of Wos y Gil, notwithstanding the disposition shown by the Jiminez party to disavow these agreements.

SERIOUS FIRE WAS AVERTED

Lucky Consequences of a $10,000 Blaze in Avenue Theater.

A MAN WAS INJURED

Cool Heads Prevented Panic and Play House Re-Opens This Afternoon.

CAUSED BY CINEMATOGRAPH

The luckiest fire that Pittsburgh has seen in many a day burned a $10,000 hole in the floor and the walls of the Avenue theater late yesterday afternoon. A celluloid film in a cinematograph machine ignited, and the blaze swept through the upper balcony in the rear of the auditorium. One man was slightly injured, and the interior of the beautiful playhouse was soaked with water, but these elements in the damage were of little consequence in view of the terrible disaster which fortunately was averted. Cool heads saved the lives and limbs of hundreds of people, and the intelligent work of the firemen confined the blaze to one corner of the building.

While 10,000 persons in Fifth avenue watched the smoke and steam pouring from the windows of the great white structure and the clang of engines and hose carts still echoed through the streets a placard with the the following legend was posted in front of the building:

"Carpenters Wanted Immediately."

Manager Harry Davis, who had left an adjoining barber shop with the lather clinging to his face, was ready to begin repairs. Before the last embers of the fire had been extinguished and the firemen were still plying their axes and nozzles, 50 carpenters had been employed and were at work replacing the charred flooring. They worked through the night, and this morning will have everything in readiness for the special Thanksgiving matinee this afternoon.

Crowd in House During Fire.

Over 300 persons were in the audience when the fire broke out a few minutes before 5 o'clock. The last of the regular vaudeville sketches had been given and the majority of the patrons had left the theater. George MacKenzie, the operator of the cinematograph, at his post in the narrow foyer back of the second balcony, had placed his first picture upon the screen. He tried the second but before the figure on the sheet answered, the audience was startled by a sharp report and a vivid flash of blue light. Instantly the blaze caught the woodwork, and in a few seconds long tongues of red flame rolled up the wall and out of the window opening in Fifth avenue.

MacKenzie was burned about the face and hands and was so disabled that he was unable to fight the fire. He was removed to the Homeopathic hospital and later was taken to his home at No. 215 Stockton avenue, Allegheny. He is 38 years old and married. His injuries are not serious. Howard Bilvens, the electrician of the theater, attempted to extinguish the blaze with a hand extinguisher, but he fire had gained amazing headway, and his efforts were futile. An alarm was turned in from the box on

BLUFF MADE BY COLOMBIA

Declares That the Canal Company Shall Not Transfer Property.

PANAMA IS LAUGHING

Treaty Will Be Passed Upon at the Isthmus and Returned the Same Day.

BLOODSHED IS NOT PROBABLE

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

Panama, Nov. 25.—The following cable dispatch has been received here from Bogota, Colombia:

"The Colombian government has notified the Panama Canal Company of Paris that it will not allow it to transfer its privileges to the United States, and that in case the concession expires the privileges must belong to Colombia.

"It is also stated that the Isthmians have always enjoyed the most ample guarantee and never have been in any way disturbed."

The foregoing dispatch is considered on the isthmus merely another Colombian bluff. It is not believed that the French government would countenance any such pretensions on the part of Colombia.

The Hay-Varilla canal treaty has been published here in English and Spanish. It is generally considered satisfactory and no difficulty of its final ratification is anticipated.

Will Rush Treaty Through.

COLON, Nov. 25.—It is proposed, when the messenger bearing the Panama canal treaty reaches Colon December 1, to have a special train ready to transport it quickly across the isthmus to Panama, where the treaty will be immediately signed by members of the junta. The train meantime will be kept waiting and when the treaty has been signed its bearer will be promptly brought back to Colon. The steamer Yucatan, due to sail December 1 for New York, will be delayed until the messenger arrives, when he will embark on the Yucatan, thus starting for New York on the same date that he arrived.

This proposal is meeting with some opposition, those desiring to discuss the treaty at length fearing that its terms will be too favorable to the United States. It is probable, however, that this opposition will be avoided.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Another conference was held today between Mr. Wilson Cromwell, counsel to the Panama Canal Company, Dr. Amador and Frederic Boyd, members of the Panama treaty commission, and Dr. Pablo Arosemena, general council to the commission. It is understood that progress was made respecting the manner and method of disbursing the $40,000,000 to be paid by the United States to the canal company, and the $10,000,000 to be paid by this country to the new republic.

No Fighting Is Feared.

Dr. Pablo Arosemena, the legal adviser of the republic of Panama, when asked today what measure would be necessary to make the Hay-Bunau-Varilla canal treaty a fact after it reaches the government on the isthmus, said:

"The treaty will first be shown to the three members of the Panama junta, and when they have approved it, will be sent to the heads of the six provinces of Chiriqui, Veragua, Losantos, Colon, Cocle, and Panama. When they have accepted it, as undoubtedly they will, it will become to all intents valid, although the new government of the republic, when chosen, will formally ratify it through the president and his cabinet. Dr. Amador will almost certainly be the first man to fill the presidential office."

Dr. Arosemena is decidedly of the opinion that Colombia will not send troops to attempt to regain the isthmus.

"Gen. Victor Salarear," he said, "is talking nonsense when he proposes to lead an army of 100,000 men overland against Panama. Such a project is utterly impossible. Salarear is a brave man and a good soldier, but hot-headed and excitable. He voices only the sentiments of the wilder element, who are so enraged at losing Panama that they are ready to go to war without counting the cost. Such rash counsel, however, will not prevail with the more sober-minded members of the Colombian congress."

ARMS FOR COLORADO.

Silver State Receives Rifles and Ammunition from the Government.

DENVER, COL., Nov. 25.—Adjt. Gen. Bell received today from the United States arsenal at Rock Island 1,000 Krag-Jorgensen rifles and 100,000 rounds of ammunition for the use of the Colorado national guard. Three more companies have been sent to Cripple Creek and the guards at the strategic points are being strengthened.

Maj. Gen. John B. Bates was in Telluride today and after making a careful investigation said the state seemed to have the strike well in hand. Gov. Peabody and Gen. Bell continue to receive threatening letters warning them against going to Telluride.

CEDRIC DID NOT SINK.

Arrival of the Steamer Titian Disproves Rumor of Collision.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(Special Cable.)—The Liverpool managers of the White Star line emphatically deny the rumor current here since Saturday that the steamship Cedric was in a collision in mid-ocean.

The rumor had died down until it was revived today. The steamship Titian, of the Lamport and Holt line, with which she is alleged to have collided, arrived today at Manchester and reported an uneventful voyage.

CUBAN STATEHOOD FINDS OPPONENTS

Senator Newlands Defends His Resolution Against Vigorous Attacks.

RECIPROCITY IS DISCUSSED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The senate today completed the appointment of committees for the Fifty-eighth congress, adopted the motion providing for the reconsideration of the vote by which the Newland's joint resolution for the annexation of Cuba was referred to committee and made the Cuban reciprocity bill the unfinished business.

The first speech on the merits of the Cuban bill was made by Mr. Carmack (Dem.) who opposed the bill and said that nothing less than general tariff revision would give the relief needed. There was further debate between Mr. Hale (R.), Mr. Teller (Dem.) and Mr. Newlands on the Newlands resolution in which Mr. Newlands further outlined his views and Mr. Hale deprecated all agitation on the subject. Mr. Teller declared that Cuba was in no sense a dependency of the United States.

Mr. Carmack began by saying that in his message the president had urged the ratification of the Cuban treaty with reasons which appeal to diverse motives in the human heart. "He told us," the senator went on, "that we must ratify it to save our honor and help our trade. It was an opportunity to worship God and get your money back; to be diligent in business while serving the Lord.

He presented the Cuban treaty in the double aspect of a bargain counter and a missionary box. "You put a nickel in the slot for sweet charity's sake and get more than your money's worth of chewing gum and cigars," he said. The Republican administration that was driven by a selfish motive to a righteous deed and could perform a Christian duty without exercising any of the Christian virtues. It is another story when honor and selfishness come into contact.

When Mr. Carmack concluded Mr. Newlands (Nevada) made a defense of his resolution for Cuban statehood. He said that Cuba was to be invited to become a state of the American republic on terms of equality with other states, and that the matter was to be decided by the people of Cuba by popular vote. He suggested that the questions of accepting statehood, becoming a military dependency or an independent sovereign government could be submitted to the people also.

Mr. Hale declared the elaborate picture of Cuban statehood to be one of fancy and impractical in every feature. He made a protest against it on the grounds that the agitation was injurious to Cuba at a time when that republic was trying to negotiate a loan to clear off obligations which accrued in her revolutionary period, and that any scheme for a change of government which is not a part of Cuban program makes it harder for her to conclude her financial obligations. The resolution and the agitation it brings, he said, serves but to weaken the hands of the patriotic men at the helm of Cuban government and also the public over the prospect.

Boy Shoots Himself.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—While out hunting today with Daniel Straitiff of Cortez, John Campbell, the 16-year-old son of former Burgess Ira Campbell, accidentally shot and seriously wounded himself. The gun slipped while Campbell was standing on a log and was discharged. The charge entered both legs.

FITZSIMMONS AWARDED THE DECISION

a left swing. Gardner was there with a hard right under the heart. He landed two rights over the kidneys in a clinch. Fitz got in a hard left on the stomach and missed with a right for the head. Gardner rammed his right into the body and another clinch. They landed straight, and a rally. Fitz drew away from a left to the body. Fitz was short with a left and brought his right on the jaw. It was the fiercest blow of the fight. Gardner clinched. They mixed it near the ropes. Gardner got in left and right on the body and Fitz a right on the neck. The contest was even so far.

Round 4—Fitz hit short with a left and brought his right on the jaw. Gardner clinched. After the break Gardner landed a hard right under the heart. Gardner forced Fitz to the ropes with left and right for the body. Gardner got out of the way of a dangerous left swing and put a light left on the nose. Fitz caught a body blow on his elbow. Fitz rushed and placed a left and right swing on the head, knocking Gardner to the floor. him with a left and right on the ears. Gardner was in trouble. Fitz shifted and brought Gardner took account of sight. When he arose Fitz crowded him to the ropes and smashed Gardner down again with a right on the temple. When he arose Fitz crowded him with rights and lefts. Fitz worked his left shift on the body and doubled Gardner up. Fitz smashed him with a right on the jaw. Fitz was battering him against the ropes when the gong sounded.

Round 6—Gardner ducked a left swing and clinched. Gardner put in a straight left on the stomach. Fitz backed into a corner, then came out and swung his right for the jaw. He missed, but got in a straight left. Gardner smashed Fitz over the eyes twice with his right. Fitz tried two right swings, but was short. Fitz is inclined to rest and Gardner is ducking and rushing at every feint. Fitz was reserving his force. Gardner kept hammering him over the kidneys with his right. Fitz rushed and used his left shift, cutting Gardner's right eye. Gardner clinched. All Gardner's blows were directed at the body now. He hooked Fitz on the stomach with his left when the round ended.

Round 7—Fitz rushed and swung his left on the jaw. Gardner ducked and backed away. Fitz following and swinging with both hands. Gardner clinched near the ropes. Gardner put two lefts on the face and another left on the stomach and a right on the ribs. Fitzsimmons raised his shoulders and backed away. Gardner was there with a left and a right on the face and a right to the stomach. Fitz sent his right in the ribs and his left in the face. They fought in a clinch. Fitz rammed both fists on the body. Gardner pressed him to the ropes and hammered him over the kidneys with his right. Between clinches Fitz feinted and swung savagely with both hands. Fitz's mouth is bleeding. Gardner was hitting clumsily, and Fitz was tired. Fitz got in a snappy uppercut coming into a clinch.

Round 8—Fitz put in a light left on the jaw. They fenced cautiously. Fitz swung for the jaw with right and missed. They clinched. Gardner got in two lefts on the body and ducked a swinging right. Gardner ducked a couple of swings and rapped Fitz over the kidneys. Fitz rapped Gardner on the jaw with plenty of force. After the break Gardner got in a hard left on the stomach. Fitz sent in two tearing punches on the body, and Gardner was lucky in smothering them. Fitz tried a shift and missed. Then he swung a left on Gardner's cheek, jarring Gardner. Fitz forced him, getting in left and right leadings. Fitz made clinched to save himself. Fitz broke a clinch with his left arm across Gardner's throat.

Round 9—They sparred cautiously, Fitz backing away and both on resting up. Fitz avoided Gardner's body punches, blocking the right-handers with his elbow and stepping back from the lefts. It was so slow that the crowd called out "Fight! Fight!" Fitz made a very fierce swing for the head, but Gardner threw the blow upward. Gardner tried Fitz's head with light straight lefts. Fitz rushed and swung with both hands. Gardner covered up and clinched. Fitz tried his left shift again and Gardner hooked him savagely in the stomach with lefts. After another rest Fitz rushed and swung left and right, but missed. Gardner caught his with left and right on the face.

Round 10—Gardner put in a pokey right on the stomach and followed it with left and right on face. Fitz reached him with a right jolt on the jaw in breaking out of a clinch. Gardner followed Fitz around, touching him lightly with left on the body and swinging right over the kidneys. Gardner caught Fitz a stiff right on the jaw. Fitz rushed and got in a left hook on the mouth. Gardner clinched. Gardner planted left and right on the face. Blood came from Fitz's lips and Gardner's nose bled. Fitz got in a jolty left on the stomach. Gardner pegged away at Fitz with irritating lefts on the body and danced away from Fitz's hard swings. Gardner fell to his haunches in a rush. In a bit of a mix-up Gardner used right and left facers and Fitz hooked him in the body with left.

Round 12—Fitz was breathing heavy. Gardner stabbed him in the body with left, and they clinched. After the break Gardner got a left in on the mouth and Fitz worked a back-hand left, catching Gardner on the face with the heel of his glove. Fitz put in a straight left and Gardner a left swing across the stomach. Gardner worked him to the ropes and jolted him in the mouth with the left. Fitz scored light with the left on the body. Fitz left-shifted and caught George a good crack on the jaw. In some close range fighting Fitz got in a right uppercut on the chin. Gardner smashed Bob on the stomach with left. Gardner ducked a brace of extra spiteful swings and clinched.

Round 13.—Fitz backed around and then tried a double shift, Gardner backing out of range. Gardner reached the face with a couple of left jolts and then rammed the left into the body. Fitz kept backing around with Gardner tapping lightly on the stomach with left and trying to clear the way apparently for a right on the jaw. Fitz tried left shift, but before he could change feet Gardner smashed him on the chin with a left swing. Fitz got in a jerky left on the ear and then backed away again. The gallery urged Fitz to fight. He ducked and shouldered into a clinch. Then Fitz made a stand and brought Gardner to the floor with a right on the ear.

Round 14—Gardner put in a left on the body. Fitz rushed him to the ropes. George blocked left and right swings. Fitz rushed again, landing left and right on the face. Gardner clinched and swung his left into the body. Fitz brought him to the floor again with a hard right on the chin. When George arose he clinched. After the break Fitz rushed and got in two left shifts on the body and face. Gardner clinched. When they parted Gardner carried Fitz to the ropes, getting in two lefts and a right on the body. They broke and Gardner sent him to the ropes again, Fitz staying away at the body in a half clinch. When they parted Fitz rushed again, swinging left and right, reaching Gardner's face with the right. Then Fitz landed hard right swing on the cheek. They were in a clinch when the gong sounded. Fitz's round.

Round 16—Fitz opened up with a shift and Gardner dived into a clinch. Fitz landed in a straight left on the stomach and got out of the way of a right-hand swing. Fitz worked along the ropes with Gardner after him. They clinched. When they broke Fitz landed twice with a right on the face and missed with left. Gardner clinched. Gardner's face is covered with blood. He clinched at every opportunity and worked his left into the stomach. He worked Fitz into a corner and swung his right on the face. Fitz chased him across the ring. They clinched and Gardner used his left jolly punch again. Gardner avoided one of Bob's terrible left swings and scored on the body again with the left.

Round 16—Fitz crouched slightly, but straightened up again. Gardner caught him a snappy right on the head and a body punch right on the temple. Gardner backed him to the ropes with left and right body blows which were not forceful. They clinched when Gardner pressed him. Gardner seemed to have the hang of Fitz's famous shift now and got out of the way of Fitz several times. Gardner ducked a right swing and smashed a left in on the body and clinched. After the break Gardner

Wage Reduction Causes Strike.

SHARON, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—On account of a reduction of 12½ cents in their wages, all the laborers at the Sharon tin mill of the United States Steel Corporation struck today. The men were paid $1 50 per day and were informed that in the future they would receive $1 87½. The strikers places have been filled.

BIG MORO CHIEFS NEVER AT PEACE

Surround Themselves With Ruffians and Thrive on Robbery and Slavery.

CONSTANT STATE OF SIEGE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—A strong picture of conditions in the Jolo group of the Philippine archipelago is contained in a letter from Col. H. T. Scott, the governor of that group, to Col. Clarence Edwards, chief of the insular bureau of the war department. Scott in the letter, which is dated September 25, explains the campaign now waging in the Jolo group. He says:

I find that the condition is one of peace so long as the big Moro chiefs are allowed to have their own way unreservedly—to rob and steal and enslave. The sultan is a man of no power of his own, and must depend on the chiefs, who may or may not do what he wishes. They are all surrounded by gangs of ruffians who do no useful work, but who live through robbery and by fining both sides in a case, irrespective of who may be guilty, the full amount of the ability to pay. If the victim refuses to pay he is enslaved.

No peace or order can be maintained in these islands so long as these conditions exist—movable property is always on the move without the desire of the owner—and in such a way they will not work and accumulate property which they will not be permitted to enjoy and there are constant turmoils, murders and enslavements going on.

No one is allowed to go beyond the cutposts here without an armed guard and it is even advisable to go about the streets here armed on account of juradementados, one of whom got through the gate past a sentinel four days ago, with his arms, ran through the barrack yard, slashed a soldier across the back, and fell dead on the piazza in front of the commissioner's office, shot five times by a volley from our soldiers, who also killed a trumpter who was getting ready for guard.

This makes the sixth or seventh juradementado who has appeared since last month, when one engineer soldier was chopped up after he had seven balls in him. All during the spring the garrison has practically been in a state of siege, when Datto Ulinge's troops went out they surrounded it, brandishing their barongs and spears and he had to come back because his orders were by no means to have a conflict.

You will see by this the way peace has been kept heretofore and by what sacrifice. Now the Moro province act contemplates changes, among others the abolishment of slavery, a very sore point with them. It contemplates trials of offenders by district courts, and these things will surely bring on conflicts.

HENRIETTA CROSMAN IN POPULAR PLAY

"Sweet Kitty Bellairs" Is Excellently Presented at Washington, D. C.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The initial production of "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," with Miss Henrietta Crosman in the title role, took place at the Lafayette Opera house here tonight. It scored a distinctive success and judging from the manner in which it was received by the large audience, it will prove one of the most popular plays in which Miss Crosman has ever appeared.

The play is dramatized by David Belasco from the story, "The Bath Comedy," by Egerton Castle, and Mr. Belasco has taken the best parts of the story and woven them into an interesting play. The production was truly after the Belasco style, with all the details and stage settings in harmony with the period of the story and costumes rich and gaudy as they were in the days of George III., of England.

Miss Crosman's work was excellent and she was given a most pleasing reception by the audience. Mr. Belasco in person superintended the production, was also accorded a great deal of credit.

MANY FATALTIES CAUSED BY FALLS

Busy Day for Coroner In the Investigation of Railroad Accidents.

Victims of falls and of railroad accidents yesterday made busy work for the coroner. John Morris, aged 35 years, a Milwaukee cattle dealer, died at the West Penn hospital of injuries received in falling from a Pennsylvania train in East Liberty on Tuesday night. Mrs. Alice Gardner, 25 years of age, who fell from a porch at her home, No. 811 Rebecca street, Allegheny, died at the Allegheny General hospital. At the same hospital Charles Henry Guesett, aged 32 years, died of injuries received by Failing from the Wabash bridge in Ferry street. He was a structural iron worker and married.

While returning to his home in Lincoln avenue, Millvale, from work yesterday afternoon, Oscar Nestlerod, a stationary fireman, was instantly killed. He was crossing the West Penn railroad at Bennetts station when he was struck by a shifting engine and only lived a short time. Nestlerod was 21 years of age and single.

Walter Kleider, a Pennsylvania railroad flagman, was struck by a light engine in the yards at Conway and instantly killed. He lived in Brereton avenue. Paul Pitio, a coal miner, was killed by a fall of slate in the Claridge mines. Tony Vinsetti, a water boy employed on the Pennsylvania railroad improvements, was killed by the falling of a steam shovel.

Clarence Felt, the 2-year-old child of August Felt of Homeville, was seriously burned while playing before an open grate.

MT. WASHINGTON BOY SHOT.

Eight-Year-Old Companion Has Disappeared, Fearing He Had Committed Crime.

Robert Jones, aged eight years, while examining a flobert rifle yesterday accidentally shot his playmate, George Manning, aged 14 years, of Smith and Gray streets, Mt. Washington. Manning's injuries are not serious and no arrests will be made.

The boys were shooting sparrows and while attempting to dislodge a defective cartridge, the weapon was discharged. The shooting is admitted by all to have been an accident, but it is believed that Jones feared that he would be accused of a serious crime, and fled to escape imprisonment.

USED HATCHET FOR A STARTER

Rifle and Shotgun Then Brought Out In Argument of White Girl With Negro Husband.

WHOLE FAMILY GOES TO JAIL

A whole family, composed of Henry Parker, aged 48, colored, his wife, Margaret Parker, aged 18, white, and their 8-months-old baby, were committed to jail last evening as the result of a spirited family quarrel at the home in O'Hara township, a mile above Sharpsburg. During the dispute Mrs. Parker threw a hatchet at her husband, cutting a six-inch gash in his scalp. In return he bit her on the nose. She then shot him in the arm with a rifle and grabbed a shotgun to complete her work when she was caught by her brother, Robert Robinson, who held her until there was a high hill between the irate white girl and her fleeing colored husband.

The cause of the dispute was a rabbit hunt started by Parker and Robinson yesterday morning. Mrs. Parker told her husband on his return that she had from her doorway seen his actions, and it was her opinion that it was another woman, not a rabbit, that he was seeking. Then the trouble started. Parker, somewhat dilapidated, finally took refuge with relatives, where his wounds were dressed. County Detectives Schadd, Anderson and McMillan took the family to the city last evening. A charge of assault and battery was made against Parker and one of felonious assault and battery against Mrs. Parker.

the stage and from Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, and the stage hands joined Blevins with the hose from the standpipes.

Nothing Like a Panic.

There was not the slightest semblance of a panic. The audience did not have to be told that the building was burning. Boys in the gallery forgot to shout "fire" while standing and gazing awe-struck at the conflagration. The lights were turned on and the spectators downstairs, assured by the ushers and call boys that there was no imminent danger, walked out as quietly as from the theater on ordinary occasions. The ushers from the Grand opera house ran in and assisted the confederate attaches of the Avenue. So well was the work done that women stopped to put on their wraps and some stood with their checks at the cloak room while the fire engines were roaring down Fifth avenue and the excited crowd in the street was shouting that the "whole block was burning up."

Back of the curtain there was a little more excitement. The actors, fearing for their wardrobes and properties, hastily scampered to their dressing rooms and prepared to carry out their valuables. George B. Snyder and Harry Buckley, who had $2,000 worth of musical instruments in their dressing rooms, rushed over from Newell's hotel to save their belongings. Fire is their peculiar hoodoo. When Miner's New York theater was destroyed they were heavy losers and had the same dose of hard luck repeated in Buffalo not long ago. They were booked to show in the Hopkins Temple theater in Louisville, Ky., next week and were compelled to cancel their engagement when 10 days ago the play-house was burned.

Difficulty the Firemen Had.

The firemen had difficulty in getting their hose lines strung through the building. The stairways had many turns and corners and it was 10 minutes before water could be used from the city plugs. By this time the whole front of the building appeared to be in flames, and the crowd in the street fled in terror, fearing that the walls would fall. The water turret was hauled up in front of the theater and half a dozen engines filled the block, where an immense throng of panic-stricken people hindered the firemen in their efforts to fight the flames.

Inside the building there was perfect order. Manager Davis, hatless and coatless, after seeing that the audience had left, climbed up into the balcony with Supt. Samuel A. Dies of the bureau of building inspection and personally directed the firemen in their work. The flames were soon under control and confined to the wall and floor of the top balcony. After half an hour, when the blaze had been smothered to a smouldering ember under the plaster, Manager Davis came down to the stage, where he was joined by Stage Manager Jack Huffman and the leading members of the Grand stock company. Miss Eva Taylor advanced to condole Mr. Davis on his loss.

"Why, Miss Taylor, we may be able to give the performance as usual tonight," answered the manager.

The words had scarcely escaped his lips when a hose line in one of the upper boxes burst and a stream of water as thick as a man's arm drenched the whole auditorium, causing the little party to flee for shelter. In less than a minute the water from the broken hose caused several thousand dollars' additional damage to draperies and fresco work which had escaped before. While the firemen were still at work carpenters arrived and commenced relaying the floor. The night performance was abandoned, but everything will be in readiness for today's matinee.

Loss Covered by Insurance.

"The loss will amount to something between $10,000 and $15,000," said Manager Davis. "It is fully covered by insurance handled through the agency of Negley & Clarke. That the damage was not five times this amount is due to the remarkable work of the Pittsburgh firemen. I cannot speak in too great praise of their brave and skillful work. To every man on the department I owe a debt of gratitude. My employes deserve the highest praise for their part in preventing a panic. To the business men and brother theatrical managers who came and offered assistance I am more than grateful. Altogether, I shall have many things to be thankful for tomorrow, despite the loss I have suffered."

Holders of tickets for last night's performance were given reserved seats in the Grand opera house and the theater was crowded. Manager Davis received a letter from R. M. Gulick and P. J. McNulty, owners of the Bijou theater, offering scenery and properties. A letter also was received from Manager A. S. McSwigan of Duquesne garden, and scores of telegrams came from theatrical people in all parts of the country, congratulating Mr. Davis on the comparatively fortunate outcome of the fire.

The building is owned by the Coleman heirs and was remodeled by Manager Davis last summer at the expenditure of $40,000. He had a 10-year lease on the building which he lately renewed for a long term.

ALTHOUSE IS DYING.

Solicitor of Monessen Writes Home That He Can Not Recover.

MONESSEN, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Word was received in this place tonight to the effect that Attorney Charles E. Althouse is at the point of death at Asheville, N. C., where he went for his health. He has been suffering from pulmonary trouble for the past two years. Recently the malady assumed an acute form.

Mrs. John D. Stahl, of Homestead, a sister, is with Mr. Althouse. The dying man is aged 41 years. In 1899 he became borough solicitor. He is familiarly known as "judge." In a recent letter which he dictated to a friend here he said: "Tell all my friends that it is up to the "judge" to die. I will be buried from the home of my brother Elmer, in Greensburg."

BODY WENT ASTRAY.

Soldier's Remains Reach Wilkinsburg, but Will Be Buried in St. Louis.

By mistake in shipping directions, the remains of Corporal William J. Fitzmaurice arrived in Wilkinsburg Tuesday evening consigned to a sister, Mrs. H. J. Keenan of 722 Wood street. The burial is to take place at St. Louis from the home of the dead soldier's father.

Corporal Fitzmaurice died September 6, 1902, of cholera, while serving in the Philippines with Company F, Twenty-sixth infantry. He went to the Philippines three years ago. The remains will be given a military burial at St. Louis.

QUEER ACCIDENT MAY CAUSE A MAN'S DEATH

Charles DeHaven, a passenger brakeman on the Pittsburgh, Charleiers & Youghiogheny railroad, received injuries yesterday morning which may result fatally. De Haven's train crashed into a mass of rock which had fallen from the roof of the Essen tunnel DeHaven was passing from one car to another when the engine struck the rock and he was thrown between the cars and run over. Both legs were badly crushed. The engine was derailed and traffic was delayed for several hours. DeHaven is married and resides in Pine street, Carnegie. Two weeks ago he buried his youngest daughter and another child is seriously ill.

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure
Costs Nothing if It Fails.
Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer. For years I searched everywhere to find a specific for Rheumatism. For nearly 20 years I worked to this end. At last, in Germany, my search was rewarded. I found a costly chemical that did not disappoint me as other Rheumatic prescriptions had disappointed physicians everywhere.
I do not mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure can turn bony joints into flesh again. That is impossible. But it will drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling, and then that is the end of Rheumatism. I know this so well that I will furnish for a full month my Rheumatic Cure on trial. I cannot cure all cases within a month. It would be unreasonable to expect that. But most cases will yield within 30 days. This trial treatment will convince you that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure is a power against Rheumatism—a potent force against disease that is irresistible.
My offer is made to convince you of my faith. My faith is but the outcome of experience—of actual knowledge. I know what it can do. And I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism. I will then arrange with a druggist in your vicinity so that you can secure six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure to make the test. You may take it a full month on trial. If it succeeds, the cost to you is $5.50. If it fails the loss is mine and mine alone. It will be left entirely to you. I mean that exactly. If you say the trial is not satisfactory I don't expect a penny from you.
I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs for it is dangerous to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood. My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met, and in all of my experience, in all of my 2,000 tests, I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.
Write me and I will send you the book. Try my remedy for a month, for it can't harm you anyway. If it fails the loss is mine.
Address Dr. Shoop, Box 568, Racine, Wis.
Mild cases not chronic are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

JOHN C. H

PENNSYLVANIA TO GET WHARF GRANT

Ordinance to Be Passed Monday and B. & O. Measures Radically Amended.

BIG CASH BONUS IS ASKED

The Pennsylvania ordinance for the elevated branch line along Duquesne way is to be passed finally by select council Monday afternoon, without amendment. A meeting of the sub-committee of the corporations committee of select council was called yesterday for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which the ordinance will be formally approved. A short session of the general corporations committee will be held Monday afternoon just before select council goes into session and the measure will be reported by the general committee to the upper branch with an affirmative recommendation.

The Pennsylvania ordinance has been in select council since July, when it was passed by common council after an exciting battle. The Pennsylvania Company agrees to remove the tracks from Liberty avenue as compensation for the grant along Duquesne way.

Radical amendments are to be made to the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance in Chairman Upperman's sub-committee tomorrow afternoon. The "Orphans" of common council stated yesterday that they had received reliable information that the rental for the Baltimore & Ohio station on the Monongahela wharf was to be raised to $25,000 a year. The company now pays $4,000 a year and is offering to pay $6,000 additional for a narrow strip lying between the present station and the Monongahela river.

Bonus of $300,000 Wanted.

The sub-committee also proposes to charge the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company a cash bonus of $300,000 for the vacation of 11 streets in the Twenty-third ward which abut the property of the railroad company and which the company wants so as to extend the yards and shops at Glenwood.

Director E. M. Bigelow yesterday gave out a story which practically confirmed the statements of select council members that the Pennsylvania ordinance was to be passed Monday. Director Bigelow announced that he made an agreement on Tuesday with President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Company, whereby the company is to build a stone bridge at Lincoln avenue over Negley run, the city to turn over to the company the money that it has appropriated for a steel structure, and the Pennsylvania Company to supply the deficiency, whatever it may be.

Director Bigelow said the bridge would cost the Pennsylvania Company not less than $100,000, in addition to the amount that the city has appropriated. The total amount appropriated by the city, as shown by the contracts already let, is $140,000. Of this amount $78,000 went to the firm of Cronin & O'Herron for the sub-structure and $71,000 to the American Bridge Company for the steel superstructure.

Company to Buy Contract.

The Pennsylvania Company will use the sub-structure built by Cronin & O'Herron and arrange with the American Bridge Company for the transfer of the superstructure. If Director Bigelow's estimate is correct the total cost of the bridge will be about $220,000. The director exhibited plans which show that the bridge will be 300 feet long, 50 feet wide and about 50 feet high. It will consist of two spans, each 125 feet long, leaving 50 feet for the approaches.

The director said the railroad company was not getting any direct benefit from the bridge, because the company had changed the route of its Brilliant cut-off which, he said, will not run under the bridge, as originally planned, nor will it touch the bridge at either end. He said the railroad tracks would cross Negley run over another stone bridge, about 750 feet long extending from Linden avenue and crossing Lincoln avenue above grade, at a point about 100 feet from the east end of the Lincoln avenue bridge.

Elevated Tracks at Lincoln Avenue.

The company's tracks are to cross Lincoln avenue at an elevation of 15 feet and when they reach Larimer avenue will run under the street. From this point to Brilliant the road will run parallel with the Beechwood boulevard, and along the eastern embankment of Negleys run.

The Pennsylvania Company will offer the Lincoln avenue bridge as an additional compensation for the Duquesne way grant.

Director Bigelow declared yesterday that the $10,000 yearly rental for the Baltimore & Ohio station on the Monongahela wharf was not fair compensation in comparison with the amount of the rental which he said the Pennsylvania Company was paying H. C. Frick for the property on the Point. Mr. Bigelow said yesterday that the company had agreed to pay Mr. Frick a yearly rental of $100,000 for 25 years.

"TECH" COMMITTEE GOES EAST TONIGHT

All Members Are Expected to Take in Visit to Mr. Carnegie and New York Schools.

All the members of the technical schools committee of the Carnegie Institute are expected to leave Pittsburgh this evening on the 10 o'clock train of the Pennsylvania railroad for New York. The purpose, as exclusively told in Tuesday's Gazette, is to talk over with Mr. Carnegie the plans of the schools and to see schools of similar character in New York.

William McConway, president of the McConway-Torley Manufacturing Company, is chairman of the committee. The other members are John A. Brashear, W. H. Stevenson, W. L. Scaife, James J. Booth and President W. N. Frew of the Institute board. Mr. Frew is already in New York.

Outside of the fact that the committee will see Mr. Carnegie tomorrow, the exact plans for the trip are not yet known. Director Arthur A. Hamerschlag of the schools having the details in charge. Tomorrow and the next day are expected to give the committee time enough to see the schools they wish to visit, and on Sunday or Monday they will be back in Pittsburgh with Mr. Hamerschlag.

CORNER STONE LAYING.

St. Stephen's Church, Wilkinsburg, the Scene of the Services.

The corner stone of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church will be laid at 3:30 p. m. today. The new church will stand almost alongside the old structure. Because of the cold, the greater part of the services will be held in the old church, the outdoor exercises consisting only of the corner stone laying and the singing of hymns. The Rev. Dr. A. W. Arundel of Trinity church, the Rev. Dr. John Crockar White of St. Andrew's and the Rev. Dr. J. H. McIlvaine of Calvary church will make addresses. All the rectors in the diocese have been invited to be present.

The Rev. Robert W. Patton was appointed rector of the church two years ago, when there were 104 communicants in the congregation; now it numbers 400. The new church will be of stone and cost $35,000.

RAISE IN GAS RATE AROUSES McKEESPORT CONSUMERS

Consumers of natural gas in McKeesport were yesterday notified by the Philadelphia Company that the rate will be increased 2 cents, to 27 cents a thousand cubic feet after January 1. The city alleges it has a contract with the Union Gas Company, which was purchased by the Philadelphia Company two years ago, to furnish gas for domestic purposes at 25 cents a thousand cubic feet in return for a franchise to lay pipe lines in the city. At a meeting of McKeesport council next Monday night the city solicitor will be instructed to apply for an injunction in court to restrain the Philadelphia Company raising the gas rate.

Holbrook Declared Not Guilty.

LANSING, MICH., Nov. 25.—After 12 hours deliberation the jury which tried ex-Senator John Holbrook for attempted bribery of a talesman in the interest of Ell P. Sutton, brought in a verdict of not guilty.

STEEL BILLET POOL NOW CONTROLS ENTIRE SUPPLY

Even the Ashland Steel Company Is Working Along the Lines Laid Down by Agreements of the Large Producers.

For the present, at least, the steel billet pool is in absolute command of the market. The membership includes practically every important plant in the country. Even the Ashland (Ky.) Steel Company, which kept out of the enlarged pool when the new members were admitted recently, has practically entered the arrangement. The pool has never been so strong as at present.

When the price of $23 was fixed at the recent pool meeting for both open-hearth and Bessemer steel billets it was understood that the price was to be effective until December 15, when another meeting is to be held. The meeting at that time will fix the prices until the middle of January. Some important questions as to policy in the future, over which there has been a difference of opinion, will be brought up for settlement at the December meeting.

Representatives from the following concerns make up the pool: Carnegie Steel Company, Lorain Steel Company and Illinois Steel Company of the United States Steel Corporation; Pennsylvania, Cambria, and Maryland steel companies, controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company; Bethlehem Steel Company, Lackawanna Steel Company, Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, Clairton Steel Company, Wheeling Steel and Iron Company, LaBelle Iron Works, Republic Iron and Steel Company, Inland Steel Company, Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, Portsmouth Steel Company, Allegheny Steel and Iron Company, Otis Steel Company, American Rolling Mill Company, Diamond State Steel Company, Sharon Steel Hoop Company, Lukens Iron and Steel Company and Alanwood Iron and Steel Company.

WILL OFFER UP THANKS TODAY

Church Congregations, Individually and in Union, Are to Celebrate Holiday.

RENDERS POLYGLOT ANTHEM

Thanksgiving services will be held today in most of the churches of the Greater Pittsburgh district. In some churches elaborate arrangements have been made, while in others only the services incidental to the occasion will be held. If the weather forecaster is to be relied upon it will be a traditional Thanksgiving day, for the atmospheric conditions promise snow and cold weather.

The Rev. S. Edward Young has enlarged on last year's novelty of having anthems of various nations sung by men and women of those nationalities, and today a number of anthems that have never been heard by Americans who have not traveled abroad will be sung. Russians, Little Russians, Bohemians, German-Austrians, Turks, Poles, Italians, Frenchmen, Germans, Portuguese, Spaniards, Greeks and Chinese will sing their hymns of the fatherland. From the specimen verses submitted by Mr. Young it appears that the Turkish anthem, replete with vowel sounds, vies with the Italian in mellifluousness. This is the way the Turks will begin their invocation of Allah's blessing on the ruler of their country:

"Yarrabbona Ounsslana
Abdul Hamid Sultanana!"

Mr. Young will rehearse causes for thanksgiving in military history of the United States, the subject being "The Magic of Our Prosperity."

Union Thanksgiving Services.

Services would be held in all the churches were it not for the arrangements that have been made for union Thanksgiving meetings in the Third Presbyterian church the Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan, pastor, the congregations of the First Point Breeze and Shadyside churches will worship. Dr. Maitland Alexander of the First church will preach the sermon. Dr. McEwan will preside over the services, and the Rev. Dr. Fulton of the Point Breeze church will read the Scripture lesson. A fine musical program will be rendered. At the First United Presbyterian the congregations of that church and of the Oakland Methodist, Oakland Presbyterian and Bellefield Presbyterian churches will hold union services. The Rev. Thomas J. Leak will preach.

"Our Nations's Morning" will be the subject of the sermon to be preached by the Rev. John Royal Harris in the East End Christian church at the services to be participated in by the congregations of the Cumberland Presbyterian, Church of God, East End Christian, Shady Avenue Baptist and Emory Methodist churches. In Christ Methodist church the Shadyside Presbyterian, Fourth Presbyterian, Fourth United Presbyterian, Friendship Park Methodist and the Pacific Avenue mission of the Methodist church will meet. The choir of Christ church will sing. All the Allegheny Methodist congregations will meet in the North Avenue church and the Rev. D. L. Johnson of the Union church will preach.

Episcopal Church Services.

Union services will be held in Trinity Episcopal church, the Rev. A. W. Arundel, rector. The congregations of Trinity and St. Andrew's Episcopal church, the Rev. J. Crockar White, rector, will take part. There will be holy communion at 8 o'clock, Thanksgiving service at 10:45 o'clock. Dr. White is to preach the sermon, while the music will be given by the choirs of both churches.

The Puritan Congregational church will hold its own congregation and the members of the Baptist Puritan, Welsh Protestant and Walton Methodist churches.

All the Protestant churches of Sharpsburg will unite in the services to be held in the Sharpsburg Presbyterian church. The Evangelical churches of Duquesne will meet in the First Baptist church. The Braddock Protestant congregations will gather in the Carnegie music hall.

The cornerstone of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, Wilkinsburg, will be laid this afternoon. Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead is expected to be present. The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Fifth avenue, near Bouquet street, will hold services at 10:30 a. m. Union services will be held in the Centenary Methodist church by that congregation and the members of the Herron Hill Methodist, Seventh Presbyterian and Eighth United Presbyterian churches. Union services will be held in the Knoxville Christian church. The Epworth league of the North Avenue Methodist church will hold its annual entertainment in the lecture room of the church. Frederick E. Johnston, the cartoonist, will help entertain the audience, and the Johnston-Morris-Boyd Concert Company will render selections.

THE DIFFERENCE

Coffee Usually Means Sickness but Postum Always Means Health.

Those who have never tried the experiment of leaving off coffee and drinking Postum in its place and in this way regaining health and happiness can learn much from the experience of others who have made the trial.

One who knows, says: "I drank coffee for breakfast every morning until I had terrible attacks of indigestion producing days of discomfort and nights of sleeplessness. I tried to give up the use of coffee entirely but found it hard to go from hot coffee to a glass of water. Then I tried Postum Food Coffee.

"It was good and the effect was so pleasant that I soon learned to love it and have used it for several years. I improved immediately after I left off coffee and took on Postum and am now entirely cured of my indigestion and other troubles, all of which were due to coffee. I am now well and contented and all because I changed from coffee to Postum.

"Postum is much easier to make right every time than coffee for it is so even and always reliable. We never use coffee now in our family. We use Postum and are always well." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason and it is proved by trial.

SKATING SEASON OPENS AT GARDEN

Record for Attendance Broken Last Night at the Duquesne Rink.

HOCKEY WILL START DEC. 1

With the stroke of a gong the seventh season of skating at the Duquesne garden was opened last evening at 8 o'clock. Before dusk the crowds began to gather outside the building and when the doors were opened there was a mad rush for positions. First came a half-hour's musical program by Guenther's band, during which the skaters eagerly crowded towards the rink. When the gong sounded the band struck up "Bedella," and within a few minutes there were no less than 1,200 people gliding over the ice. The rink was in almost perfect condition, and notwithstanding the great number of skaters it remained so until the close. The attendance was estimated at 3,000, which is in advance of that of the previous year.

Manager A. S. McSwigan anticipates a brilliant season of skating and hockey games. For the remainder of this week morning sessions will be held each day. Thereafter morning sessions will be held only on Saturdays and holidays. The first hockey game will take place at the garden December 1, and the strongest teams in the Pennsylvania hockey league have been selected to start the ball. They are the Bankers' and Pittsburgh Athletic club. Other games will follow in rapid succession. Manager McSwigan has changed the hockey game nights to Tuesdays and Thursdays, instead of Tuesdays and Fridays, as heretofore.

The freezing apparatus will be kept in place until as late as April 15 or perhaps later. So far there will be two skating clubs or classes, those of Misses Stella Hays and Roma Husselton and Mrs. G. T. Clarkson. The former class will meet every Tuesday and Thursday mornings and the latter on Friday mornings.

Since the last season of skating a number of improvements have been made in the garden. Some alterations have been made in the machinery for making ice so that the surface of the ice will not frost or peel as readily. A new floor has also been laid and the painters' brush freely used.

HAD CATARRH SIXTEEN YEARS.

"Pe-ru-na is the Greatest Cure in the World."

J. H. KELLY

Who can compute the value of the cures Peruna is making? Who can estimate the worth of such a remedy?

Peruna has made just such cures thousands upon thousands of times. There is no nook or cranny in the whole United States, but that some one could be found who owes his life and success to Peruna, the greatest catarrh remedy of the age.

Pe-ru-na Is Acknowledged as the Greatest Catarrh Remedy in the World.

Men of Prominence in the Business and Political World do Not Hesitate to Endorse It.

J. H. Kelly, Sharpe, Kan., writes: "I wish to thank you for the good Peruna has done me. It is the greatest cure in the world. I have been troubled with catarrh for sixteen years. I used thirty-six bottles of a catarrh cure, but continued to get worse. My doctor wanted me to go to Kansas City for treatment, but I thought I would try Peruna first, so I got six bottles and went to taking it. I used four bottles, and am well again. I can't thank you too much for the good your medicine has done me."

A Congressman's Letter.

Hon. David Meekison, member of the fifty-fifth Congress from Ohio, writes: "I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."—David Meekison, Member of Congress.

The first cold weather is dangerous. Many people contract cold, suffer with coughs or acute catarrh during the month of November. Peruna fortifies the system against colds.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Washing Done While You Wait

—If you wash with MILLER'S SOAP you can have the hardest part of the washing done while you wait. THIS WAY:

Wet the pieces and carefully rub the soap on them. Then roll them up and soak in cold water (it may be slightly warm, but not hot) for half an hour or so. The washboard or machine will now work away the dirt which has been thoroughly dissolved or loosened by the soap; wash and rinse thoroughly without heating or scalding; blue, wring and hang out the clothes as usual.

MILLER'S SOAP

is made with

NAPTHA

The naptha does what used to take hard rubbing to do. Easier on the washing and easier on the washer. MILLER'S SOAP is the highest grade and the largest cake. Sold by all Grocers.

Indian territory appeals for a delegate in congress, its petition being non-partisan and earnest. Whether this is to be taken as an abandonment of the project to have the Indian territory admitted to statehood in connection with Oklahoma, or whether it is in furtherance of that design, does not appear on the surface. Senator Quay has given notice that he will again urge statehood for Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona, and it may be the Indian territory is getting anxious to be included in the general plan and so desires representation by delegate.

Dr. Pablo Arosemena, the legal representative of Panama, is not alarmed by the threats of armed invasion from Colombia. He says they are the natural expression of the fury of the foiled villain, but will end in talk. The doctor pays a compliment to the courage and earnestness of Gen. Victor Salarear—not salary in arrears, but suggestive of it—who has been the chief spokesman of the force party in Colombia, but he says the angry general is simply talking without regard to the facts. In effect, Salarear is "talking through his hat"—and it may be a Panama hat.

What might have been a disaster of the first magnitude proved to be a very ordinary fire in the Avenue theater yesterday. Audiences were very cleverly cleared from the damaged playhouse and from the Grand opera house adjoining without causing a panic in either. A great many people have cause to be thankful today because it all happened as it did, for had a panic started there would be mourning in many homes where there is naught but good cheer. The buildings are well supplied with exits, and these assisted materially in securing the happy outcome.

It is reported that Pension Commissioner Ware contemplates retiring from office within a year. He will be missed. Mr. Ware is the man who has established the merit system in his bureau on a practical foundation and who recently informed his clerks that if any of them endeavored to secure advancement through the influence of their senators, or because they were the sons of somebody, they would be set back several numbers. He even threatened discharge for any one twice guilty of attempting to use a "pull." It is not surprising that a man of this character should find official life irksome, but it is regrettable that he should be lost to the public service. More of his sort of discipline is needed among public employes.

Gov. Pennypacker and Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger both did good service for the idea of the Greater Pittsburgh. Of course, consolidation should have begun some years ago, not merely for the purpose of securing proper statistical standing for the community, but because union would give better protection for person and property, and effect economies in administration. The project for consolidation, however, moves slowly. Not so the greater Pittsburgh in an industrial sense. This greater Pittsburgh is everywhere recognized and it is growing in such a manner as to realize all the speakers said of its future condition and at the same time so as to compel consolidation of its municipal units in the not very distant future.

The action of the senate in setting December 16 as the date for taking a vote upon the Cuban bill was altogether inexcusable. The passage of the bill by the house was a fulfillment of a condition affixed by the senate in ratifying the treaty, and immediate action by the senate should have followed. The extra session was called for the express purpose of concluding the Cuban matter and when the senate postpones the time of voting until well into the regular session it looks like a deliberate affront to the president and the house. Probably there was no such intention, but it was simply an exhibition of the habitual arrogance of the senate. The house has acted properly in taking no notice of the senate's action, and it is to be hoped that it will stand firm and refuse to adjourn over to the regular session. The policy of the house in 1897, under Speaker Reed's advice, is a good one to follow. The extra session beginning March 15, 1897, was called for the purpose of passing a tariff law and much to the senate's chagrin the house refused to consider any other business, so that public attention was concentrated upon the senate's dawdling and sinister way of doing business, with some effect in accelerating its proceedings.

Governor Pennypacker has again indicated his independence in appointing to the supreme court of the state of Pennsylvania a man of his own choice, and one who has sat among the judges of the court as the appointee of a Democratic governor, failing of election, however, as a candidate on the Democratic ticket. Samuel Gustine Thompson is a Philadelphian whose personal character and legal attainments are undisputed. He was prominent as a Democrat until the Bryan wave swept that party from its moorings and caused him to cease to identify himself with it. There is not, however, any politics in his appointment. He is given the place by the governor until the people fill it for the full term by election, simply because the governor knows him and appreciates him. There are Republicans of long standing as capable, some of whom have been mentioned for the place, and there will naturally be disappointment that one of them was not selected for this post of honor. It is the right of the chief executive, however, to appoint, in accordance with his judgment of men and the requirements of the emergency confronting him. The appointee will serve until the first Monday of January 1905, and as there will be no session of the legislature meanwhile there is nowhere a power of review or need to ask consent of anyone. Governor Pennypacker has exercised his constitutional right and power in accordance with his best judgment. This is the thing that is required of him.

Let All Give Thanks.

It is a good custom that has been handed down from the fathers of the republic to set apart one day in each year after the season of harvest for special thanksgiving, and today has been appointed by the president of the United States to be the day of thanksgiving for 1903. Those who do not on this day enjoy the same measure of prosperity as on Thanksgiving day 1902, have reason to give thanks, if for nothing else, that things are as well with them as they are, and that at the end of a period of business reaction the prospect for the future is bright, and that another era of great prosperity is already dawning. There has been, it is true, a period of industrial reaction and a depression of the market value of securities and contraction due to the ending of the overstrain of several years, but the fundamental conditions, nevertheless, are strong; the foundations of prosperity are uninjured, and after a brief pause to take an inventory of the assets and make forecast of the prospects, there will be a full resumption of the movements that put money in the purse and enable people in all walks of life to provide themselves with the creature comforts necessary to their material well being, and to retain and add to their store of things needful to their moral and mental progress. For these certainties all should rejoice, and for the possession of the present and the promise of the future all should give thanks.

There have been abundant crops in the year 1903. The harvests were late, but the yield has been splendid. There will be food in plenty for all the people of the United States, and a large surplus of food to sell to the multitudes in other lands who are under the necessity of turning each year to the grain fields of countries other than their own to supply their lack. The fresh reaped produce of our fields is already in demand, and in addition to the drafts on our granaries, which are only beginning, there is an urgent call for the produce of our cotton fields. These are again bringing the gold of Europe into our markets and furnishing means to the tillers of the soil with which to make purchases of the merchant, who in turn calls on the manufacturer to renew his stock, thereby furnishing employment for the clerk and the mechanic and the artificer and the textile worker and others, until as we proceed the endless chain of the machinery of prosperity develops to the view, and the prophecy for 1904 almost ripens from the seed to the fruit as we stand on the pinnacle of this great day of the year to survey the past and to scan the future with the eye of faith, reading its promise in achievement and conditions, and renewing confidence thereby.

Let all give thanks, therefore, for there is abundant reason to do so.

Rumored Demands.

A meeting of the sub-committee of the rump committee on corporations has been called for tomorrow. In this connection it is promised that the three railroad ordinances held by the sub-committee are to be reported back to the committee with more or less amendment. In the same connection it is said the street vacation ordinances held by the sub-committee of the rump surveys committee is also to be reported with amendments, and that all are to be passed. The amendments mentioned are said to be an increase in the compensation clause of the Baltimore & Ohio depot site ordinance to $25,000 a year or more and a demand in connection with the vacation of streets in the Twenty-third ward for $300,000 or so.

These rumors may or may not be true. We do not know their origin. If true, they can mean but one thing—an attempt to punish the Baltimore & Ohio railroad because its agents had the temerity to tell the public why their ordinances were held up to the detriment of the city. The rental offered by the Baltimore & Ohio for the privilege of occupying a strip of river front, jointly with the city, is the most liberal in the history of Pittsburgh. It is not an exorbitant price for the total of privileges enjoyed, but the figures named for the amendment may be so classed.

As for the street ends that it is sought to vacate in the Twenty-third ward, the price mentioned is ridiculous. The railroad company owns all of the abutting property, and the streets run from the company's main line to a high bank overlooking the Monongahela river. There is no wharf there and no chance to make one. The street ends have never been opened to traffic, and there is no traffic to occupy them. The railroad can use them, and by doing so increase its payrolls in Pittsburgh and the amount of taxes it must pay to the city. It must strike the average citizen as an oddity that select council's committees should be found advocating so much higher rates of compensation from the corporations than are even suggested by the "Orphans" in common council.

Dangers of Civilization.

Gen. Frederick Funston makes a very interesting report on the condition of the natives of Alaska. He avows at the outset that his information is nearly all obtained from missionaries, hunters and others who dwell in the territory during the winter, his own observations being in summer when the conditions are most favorable. Nevertheless there is reason to believe his information is correct and his conclusions sound.

Among the Thlinket Indians tuberculosis and liquor are causing disaster. The Yukon Indians are in a little better condition. The Eskimos and Aleuts suffer also from tuberculosis, liquor and guns, all conveyed to them originally by representatives of civilization. Tuberculosis naturally thrives in their practically air-tight huts. The taste for liquor induces them to part with their possessions, including winter stores, and renders them worthless for the fisheries and the chase. Breech-loading guns, introduced by the whalers, appeared at first to be a blessing because they enabled the natives to secure game more readily, but their intemperate use in the reckless slaughter of walrus and caribou has deprived the country of its natural food supply.

Civilization has not been a good thing for the children of the ice fields. Probably if they had enough of it their condition would be better. But it appears to be the rule that primitive races are quick to acquire the diseases and vices of civilization, when brought into contact with it, and before they have absorbed the white man's virtues they cease to be his burden. A few North American Indians bid fair to weather through and remnants of the African tribes may survive, but the mass of them will "get off the earth" and make room for the fittest who are capable of withstanding both vice and disease.

Except for some mere matters of detail it is all fixed as a result of the chamber of commerce banquet to have at least a nine foot stage of water all the year round from Pittsburgh to that place in Korea that Russia says mustn't be opened to the general public. Mumm's the word, but the czar had better look out for us, we're on the way.

We don't believe that there is any truth in the report that the senate's delay of the Cuban bill is because Americans have not yet been able to buy the Cuban sugar crop at their own terms, but the senators ought to take notice of it and get busy.

The "prominent politician" at Bogota who predicted that "the United States will retract the steps it has taken in Panama" is another of those prophets that prophesy without knowing.

Germany's recognition of the new republic of Panama is evidence that if the kaiser's voice isn't what it was he can see as straight as ever.

When the senate arranged to adjourn without asking the consent of the house it forgot that the house is not governed by senatorial courtesy.

Our grave and reverend senators erred in not making the customary advance arrangement to catch the speaker's eye.

Snowballs that yet linger in the suburbs, arrived just in time to help out the Thanksgiving of the stock market bulls.

Senator Hanna is convinced that most of these presidential boosts are knocks.

The Moros of Jolo are now better acquainted with Gen. Wood.

Chicago gives thanks because the street car strike is ended.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"God bless us, everyone."

In this brief prayer Tiny Tim expressed all that can be covered with a prayer, no matter how long drawn out, how eloquent, or how agonizing. It is the substance of all prayer.

Nor will phylactery, or stole, or vestment add to the efficacy of such a prayer, nor render it more pleasing to God.

Tiny Tim's prayer carries with it the idea of confidence and of thankfulness. It was for him to ask, believing it would be given and to be only thankful when it came.

Nor was his a grudging prayer, asking for himself alone. He included everyone, and so heartily and so cheerfully, too, that we all feel we are included and want to thank him for his kind intercession, for surely one so earnest and so confiding and so generous, will catch the ear of God, and touch the hearts of the angels.

Nor is little Tim less thankful than he is confident, nor less generous than he is eager. He is as willing to divide as he is to receive. Can you pray with him?

* * * * *

God bless the king—I mean the faith's defender;
God bless—no harm in blessing—the pretender;
But who pretender is, or who is king,
God bless us all! that's quite another thing.
—John Byrom.

For what are we thankful?

For blessings—the things which have come from a power over and above us—that power without which we would not exist.

Blessings must be sought for, even striven for, and then received with grateful hearts and gladsome hands.

That which is snatched from the earth and consumed with grumblings and complainings, may sustain our animal parts for the time being, but they do not bless.

To satisfy the appetite is one thing, but to feed and nourish the heart and thereby cheer the soul, is quite another thing.

It is well to pray for the king, and the pretender, too, for we know not but tomorrow their stations may be changed; but it is ever safe and wise and proper to pray: "God bless us all."

So thought our poet four centuries ago, and we, if Christians in heart, gladly and heartily join in the grand amen chorus:

"Hallelujah, amen! Hallelujah, amen;
And again: Hallelujah, amen, and amen."

* * * * *

What say you of the man who is not thankful today that he lives?

If he is not thankful then is he ungrateful, and what does the ingrate deserve?

The man who throws aside his crust and bone, and curses because it is not turkey and salad is an ingrate.

He who is not thankful for that which he has, will hardly be given more. Indeed, were he given more he would be unthankful still, for thankfulness is of the heart, and not of the animal senses.

The dog is pleased when it is fed, but it is not thankful, nor truly grateful. Nor can it be, for it cares only for itself and knows only its present needs.

We should be thankful that we are living in a land where life may be so pleasant and where we may grow into better men and women than were those who preceded us, even if we do not succeed in acquiring great riches, or in gaining great distinction among the people, riches retard rather than help us toward the goal we most desire. At the end of life they are laid down, being too heavy, too gross, too soulless to enter in the purer, holier atmosphere of heaven.

Let us, therefore, join in the lay of the last minstrel:

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land!
Whose heart has ne'er within him burn'd
As home his footsteps he hath turn'd,
From wandering on a foreign strand?
If such there breathe, go, mark him well;
For him no minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim—
Despite those titles, power and pelf,
The wretch, concentrated all in self,
Living, shall forfeit fair renown,
And, doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust from whence he sprang,
Unwept, unhonor'd and unsung.
—Sir Walter Scott.

And we may say amen, for it is but just and a mercy, too, that such a one shall not disturb the quiet and peace of heaven, nor vex the loyal souls gathered there.

* * * * *

Then, why not be thankful that we live, and that our several lots have been cast in so fair a country, and that we are so near to God, the soul over all, that we may ask, each for himself, and receive according to his merits?

And more thankful still that the great God so near that we may speak and be heard, bends a kindly listening ear to one so poor and so needy as Tiny Tim, when the heart breathes that earnest prayer: "God, bless us, everyone."

And let every man be specially thankful who possesses a good woman's love—a love next to God's love—be it the love of mother, wife or sweetheart. Man is never nearer heaven than when he truly loves a worthy woman, and is by her beloved. It hath been said, and truly, that all the world loves a lover; and may we not reverently add, and so doth God.

Unthankful for life must he be whose heart is not moved to love by lovely woman.

How grateful then should all men be, and thankful in heart, and cheerful in soul, that in this fair land they may seek and find not only mates, but helpmates, and together enjoy the rare pleasures of an earthly home, which are nearest the pleasures of heaven.

Who are happier today than those gathered about the home fireside, with a few friends to enjoy with them the blessings from heaven, which they are permitted to regard as the fruits of their labors?

There are those, however, and many there be, who will seek pleasure in folly's fields, and even expect to find happiness in sinfulness. They know better, but having forgotten that the power that keeps them alive, with food and shelter and creature comforts, feels and notes their ungratefulness and marks it against their account, which account surely will come up for final settlement on that great day for which all other days were made.

None can ever be truly thankful for the pleasures that come of sinfulness.

* * * * *

Though poor thy lot, and scant thy cheer, curse not, nor be cast down, for God reigns and hope still lives.

The shadows may hang darkly, and the way seem dreary, but forget not that there is a turn ahead, and just beyond a light to cheer the weary, desponding heart. It is a kindly light, but steady and unfailing.

Wrecks there be along the way, but only of the unfaithful, the ungrateful, the unthankful. And how it does cheer one to go back home on Thanksgiving day; and what strength and courage one gathers from the homely spread, while pleasure and delight possesses the soul as it surveys the scenes of bygone days—happy days!

One denied the privilege of this home-going may enjoy it in a great measure if the heart be attached to the hearts gathered there.

What, indeed, is to hinder kindred, loving hearts from going back home again today, even of feeling that hunger which only a boy may feel, and which is only really enjoyed as a memory? And may we not in memory gather around the old falling-leaf table, sit upon the high-post chairs, and silently bow our heads and hearts in the Presence, and feel that our unspoken thanks have been heard?

Better this than uttered, yet receiving thanks for gold and silver, for jewels rare, or pastimes fair, or passing fame or fitful name, or for aught that may perish in a day, or with life.

So let us once again join with Tiny Tim, and pray:

"God bless us, everyone."

GRACE FOR THANKSGIVING.

For all Thy care and loving kindness, Lord,
Accept our thanks who gather 'round this board
We see Thy goodness in each perfect thing;
The sky, the sea, the bird on happy wing
And every blade that makes the velvet sward.

With hearts and line in worshipful accord
Do we recount the blessings on us poured,
And lift our voices hymns of praise to sing,
For all Thy care.

Help us to help the needy and ignored;
Teach us mere riches no true peace afford,
And grant to each that he may often bring
Some consciousness to Thee of laboring
To prove, O Guardian! a worthy ward
For all Thy care.
—Edward W. Barnard, in The Criterion.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—For the last 20 years, if not longer, the fashionable population of Manhattan has moved uptown at the rate of a block each year. This season, according to official records, the "smart set" has jumped nearer toward Harlem by two or three blocks. Some 2,225 families have moved in the last year. That is, families of wealth and social position which would bring them into the elite directory. There are few residences left in the area between Nineteenth and Thirty-fourth streets, but there is an oasis in Washington Square where many of the ancient Knickerbocker families still have their Lares and Penates. They will never move as a whole, and it is only now and then that even a single family breaks away and is whirled up to the Carnegie hill neighborhood, or to Riverside, within hailing distance of Charles M. Schwab's new residence.

Although these conservative people of the old Square are content with their present homes there is a general tendency on the part of everybody else to get above Fifty-ninth street. There is a reason for this, aside from the desire to be in the more open localities to the northward. It is the old and well-recognized one that business is squeezing homes out of all that part of Manhattan contiguous to Broadway below Central park.

Awful Suspense Over the Cedric.

It would be impossible to describe the awful wave of horror and suspense that swept over New York this morning when the first rumor of the loss of the Cedric in mid-ocean was announced at the newspaper offices.

The Cat Came Back.

A Paterson man is dead from hydrophobia through the bite of a cat. He had shot the animal and thinking he had dispatched it, gave it a kick as it lay on the ground. A few of its nine lives were left, however, and the next moment he received a bite in the leg that made him scream with pain. Cauterization and other remedies were applied, but the man died today. The danger of "fooling" with a cat, dead or alive, is demonstrated in a ghastly way by this tragedy.

Chance for an Argument.

Gov. Odell says he is leader of the Republican party in the state of New York and that Senator Thomas C. Platt is leader emeritus. Now New York would like to hear from Platt.

Old-Time Thanksgiving in Sight.

New York small boys are getting out their skates this evening for a thorough oiling, and to prepare them generally for the winter campaign. Official predictions are for an old-fashioned Thanksgiving. That is to say, the ice which has already formed on pools of water everywhere outdoors will continue, while snow flurries also are probable. There will not be skating on the park lakes, of course, because the authorities insist that there shall be not less than four inches of ice when the red ball goes up, but in the suburbs, where ponds are numerous, young America will have many opportunities to test his skates and ankles tomorrow, unless all signs fail.

Wireless Telegraphy Outdone.

There was an elopement yesterday from a lonely settlement in the middle of the Hackensack water meadows known as Secaucus. It is about three miles from the North river, but might be in mid-ocean so far as any knowledge of it to New Yorkers who are not commuters is concerned. No one goes to Secaucus except telegraphers who occupy the signal tower there, an occasional duck hunter and the natives of the place. The girl who eloped took no communication with her lover, who lived 60 rods away and had been forbidden to see her, through a field glass and a slate. She and her lover were each provided with these first aids to marriage through the thoughtfulness of the young man, and they used to talk to each other in writing from the windows of their respective bedrooms. They circumvented her "old man" and now they are married.

False Teeth in His Throat.

A saloonkeeper, whose store teeth were not anchored firmly swallowed the upper set yesterday, and is in the Hudson Street hospital. The doctors hope to save his life, but are not sure that they can do it. The teeth are lodged in his oesophagus, and so far have refused to move either up or down. It is said the patient's sufferings are agonizing.

Diplomats Are Needed.

Yachting men here are disturbed because they have the opportunity to race for two separate cups, the course being from Sandy Hook to the Needles. Etiquette is very strict among yachtsmen, as the earl of Dunraven learned to his advantage a few years ago. One of the cups has been offered by Sir Thomas Lipton, the other by the emperor of Germany. The question is whether the New York Yacht club or the Atlantic Yacht club shall compete for the kaiser's cup. It has been understood right along that the Atlantic club should have the first chance at Sir Thomas' trophy. There was a meeting of the flag officers and the regatta committee of the New York Yacht club today to talk the matter over, but it is fairly certain that many meetings will be held before the question is settled. Lese majeste is not an active law in this country, but New York yachtsmen do not wish to offend the Emperor Wilhelm on general principles, and assuredly they will not slight the genial Sir Thomas on any account.

"L" Trains Not Without Discomfort.

It was a Manhattan "L" train that got into smash-up this morning. That kind of thing has been going on in Brooklyn at intervals for several days, but on this side of the East river such disasters had been practically unknown until today. None of the passengers was seriously injured, although flying pieces of glass made them uncomfortable. Meanwhile there was another rear-end collision in Brooklyn, in which half a dozen passengers were bruised and knocked about, but not dangerously. Urban travel is not without its pleasures in Greater New York, but such exemplifications of the strenuous life as have been offered of late on the elevated roads are not conducive to enjoyment.

Where Hale Was Hanged.

Another cherished tradition has been exploded. Every Pittsburgher who ever walked through City Hall park has stopped to read the inscription on the pedestal of the statue of Nathan Hale, stating that he was hanged "near the spot where this statue stands." A local antiquary gives to wondering New Yorkers the information that Hale was done to death far away as the farm of Col. Henry Rutgers, whose house has stood on Cherry street, between what are now Clinton and Jefferson streets. This is doubtless true, but after all, the nearness of the spot is only a matter of comparison, and it is not likely there will be any altering of the wording on the Hale statue as a result of this new discovery.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Governor Odell and Senator Platt of New York dined at the White House last evening. Each went with a long dirk concealed in the sleeve of his dress coat, figuratively speaking, and they came away with arms locked and each singing the songs of peace, also figuratively speaking. They are the two big men in New York politics and they had clashed over the question of leadership. It appeared that the Empire state was becoming too small to hold both and the Republican organization was threatened with internal dissensions that boded ill for the success of the ticket next year. This was the situation when President Roosevelt issued the invitations for his little dinner party and after a good meal and while the smoke was curling from the cigars, a compromise was reached and both Odell and Platt retain their prestige. Both will work for the success of the party. The terms of this compromise are of more interest to the people of New York than to any one else, but the fact of a compromise is but another evidence of the force of character of President Roosevelt. His direct way of handling affairs whether they relate to politics or to the government have characterized his administration from the first.

Forcefulness That Counts.

Roosevelt goes straight to the core of a subject and does not waste time in beating about the bush. In the instance above referred to, he did not listen to the story of one side or the other. Putting party harmony above any personal considerations, he called the warring chieftains together at his board and told them, in effect, to compromise. He reminded them that New York is a large state and should be big enough to accommodate two big men. The result was, peace. The first act of Roosevelt's administration in which this direct and forceful character was shown conspicuously to the public was in the appointment of the anthracite coal commission. Politicians frowned upon this act and told him that he was making a mistake. Conservative men feared he was going outside the prerogatives of his office. The president heeded not these warnings. He saw a condition of affairs which he believed warranted him in interfering on behalf of the public. Coal prices were soaring upward in the face of approaching winter, thousands of men were out of employment, their families were suffering. With the coal practically shut off and prices beyond the reach of the poor, he became convinced that his duty led him to facilitate a settlement if possible. Results have shown the wisdom of his course and those who derided him then, now praise his courage and foresight.

Another Case of Strenuousness.

Another example of the Roosevelt way was given in the closing of the postoffice at Indianola, Miss. The president is one of these old-fashioned people who believe that the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution mean just what they say. Consequently when the white citizens of Indianola interfered with the postmistress at that town, and advised her to resign, because she was a colored woman, he lost no time in considering the political consequences, but acted at once. First ascertaining that the woman was competent and that she had given no cause for complaint, he astounded the people of Indianola by closing the postoffice at that place, and retaining the postmistress on full salary. A howl of protest came from the south. Bitter words were flung at the president, but he was not to be moved by them. The only interpretation to be placed upon the recommendation of the citizens that the colored postmistress resign her place, was that it contained a veiled threat, and that thereby her liberty was infringed. Hence the president took the course open to him to protect her in her rights and to show to the people that the government of this country is not to be trifled with.

Roosevelt as Labor's Friend.

It was but a few months ago that a dispute arose as to whether the government printing office should be recognized as a union or an "open" shop. Labor unions demanded of the president that he accede to the demands of the labor organizations and the discussion was fiercely waged to the terror of the politicians, who feared if it was not soon settled it might endanger the Republican party next year. What would the president do in the face of labor's demands? It was a delicate question. But it had no special terror for President Roosevelt. He has only one way to deal with matters of such importance and that is to go directly at them and settle them justly and firmly and definitely. So he called a number of the prominent labor leaders together at the White House and talked it over with them. He showed them that it would be illegal for him to rule that only union men should be employed at the government printing office. They were intelligent enough to recognize the truth of his statement. He assured them of his sympathy and support, evidence of which he had given on many occasions, but he made it plain to them that government workshops must remain "open" shops, and that there could be no deviation from this policy. And that has practically ended the matter. All the labor leaders of intelligence and prominence admit that the president has taken the only course open to him and they sustain him in it.

As an Honest Politician.

These are but few of the many instances that have come up during Roosevelt's administration that have impressed the country with the directness and forcefulness of the president. He is furnishing a healthy example of honesty in public affairs and he is impressing politicians with the fact that frankness and steadfastness are not incompatible with shrewd politics.

This is Characteristic.

Only this day another example of the president's characteristics was furnished. A United States district judge was appointed in Kansas and for weeks past the Kansas delegation in congress has been meeting daily to ballot for a candidate. The appointment was a presidential one, but the selection was left to the delegation in congress from that state. But they could reach no agreement, Senator Long and some of the representatives being in favor of one man, and Senator Burton and other representatives supporting another. Thus the dispute had been hanging fire for weeks. Today the delegation met as usual and took eight ballots without reaching a conclusion after which they adjourned to meet again on Friday. But it will not be necessary to meet Friday to ballot, for today the president sent to the senate the name of John C. Pollock for the judgeship of the Kansas district. His course in the Panama matter, in the Cuban treaty affairs and in all the great questions that he has been obliged to deal with since coming into the presidency, has always been along the same open, frank and direct lines. You don't have to guess where he stands.

Subscriber, Pittsburgh—Usually the most acceptable way to entertain a party of young people between the ages of 16 and 20 is to have a dance. This is above all things the dancing age, but where space forbids or dancing is not favored why not try cards, music or a contest of some kind. You may vary the usual musical program by having it a problem musicale and asking your guests to tell what the different selections played are taken from. This is very amusing. If you do not like cards, play the highly fashionable game of "sniff" with dominoes, progressively, for prizes. It is great fun. An advertisement party is good and interesting. Ask every one to come representing some advertisement. The costumes are not difficult to arrange. There are any number of advertisements easy to copy. Have a picture gallery of well-known advertisements without names, and make the guests compete in trying to guess the greatest number correctly. For supper have creamed lobster and sandwiches, salad, ice cream and cake, and coffee last of all.

The Death Roll.

Mrs. J. Edgar Thomson.

Mrs. J. Edgar Thomson, widow of a former president of the Pennsylvania railroad, is dead in Philadelphia, having succumbed to pneumonia after an illness of four days. She was 79 years of age. By her death the orphan daughters of Pennsylvania railroad employes will be made the beneficiaries of a charity planned by Mr. and Mrs. Thomson many years ago. In 1881 Mrs. Thomson established a small orphanage for daughters of railroad men. The number of inmates was limited to 16. A large lot has been reserved as the site for a more commodious institution and upon it will be erected a building capable of accommodating 300 girls. The institution will be endowed from the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Thomson. J. Edgar Thomson was elected president of the Pennsylvania railroad in 1851.

Dr. Thomas Richardson Storer.

Dr. Thomas Richardson Storer, one of the prominent medical practitioners of Western Pennsylvania, died last evening at his home on Scenery Hill, 32 miles east of Washington. He had been ill about two months. He was the son of John Storer and Lucinda Wright Storer. He was born in Union township in 1842. On his mother's side he was a lineal descendant of "Tom, the Tinker," of whisky insurrection fame. In 1861 he enlisted in the First Pennsylvania cavalry. His regiment was mustered out in 1864 and he immediately re-enlisted in the Seventy-ninth volunteers. He was married in the fall of 1.85, his wife being Catherine A. Roberts. His widow and five children survive.

Mrs. Harriet Hubbard Ayer.

Mrs. Harriet Hubbard Ayer of New York, is dead, aged 58. About 25 years ago her husband, Herbert Ayer, a wealthy Chicago iron man, lost his property and soon thereafter died, leaving his wife without means and with a family to support. She immediately started to earn her living, first as a buyer for a bric-a-brac store, later from her interest in cosmetics and arts of the household, and then devoted her time entirely to writing for the women's department of newspapers. Mrs. Ayer soon came to be an authority on matters relating to feminine beauty and health, and wrote a book entitled, "How to Be Beautiful."

Funeral of Col. N. P. Sawyer.

Funeral services over the remains of Col. Nathaniel Peter Sawyer will be held at his late home in Morningside avenue, East Liberty, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Danner, rector of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, will conduct the services. The pallbearers will be City Controller John S. Larkin, J. Charles Dicken, Samuel J. Wainwright, Wilkins Linhart, Henry Steffler, A. G. Burbank, W. J. McAfee and W. J. Sheraden. Col. Sawyer's son, John H. Sawyer, who lives in Denver, Col., has started for Pittsburgh and is expected to arrive in time to attend his father's funeral.

Jacob Harris Patton.

News has been received in Uniontown of the death, at New York city, of Jacob Harris Patton, aged 91 years. Mr. Patton was born in Washington township, Fayette county, Pa., and is survived by two brothers, Thomas and Finley Patton, of Fayette county, and one sister, Mrs. Harriett Houseman of Washington, Pa. He was for 40 years a teacher in New York and was a historian of considerable note, having written a history of the Presbyterian church of America and histories of both the Republican and Democratic parties.

ALLEGHENY CHURCHES WILL NOT CONSOLIDATE

Congregation of Second U. P. Decides Not to Join With the Ninth Church at a Meeting Last Night.

Unless there is in the future a decided change of sentiment in the congregations there will be no consolidation of the Second and Ninth United Presbyterian churches of Allegheny. At a congregational meeting of the larger of the two, the Second, last night, the proposition to join with the younger church was voted down by a large majority. Little discussion preceded the action taken by the congregation. The determination to retain the old name and to discountenance any project of consolidation, seems to be general in the Second church, and few words were wasted in discussion of the matter.

In the brief talk prior to the voting it was brought out that it is the prevalent opinion among the members that by combining the two congregations the Second church would, in a measure, lose its identity. It is one of the oldest churches on the North Side and in past years has numbered on its rolls the names of many of the most prominent people in this vicinity. One of the conditions to be enforced in the event of consolidation was that the name of the church should be changed. It had been previously decided that in the event of a merger the new church should be called the Union, Westminster, North, Central or Knox United Presbyterian church.

Another contention was that the Second would be burdened by a large debt now outstanding in the Ninth. Besides this, it was said that during the interval existing between the time of the consolidation and the date of the dedication of a new building, both churches would lose members. Among other conditions incidental to the proposed combination it was provided that while the new church should be in course of erection the Ninth church pulpit should be filled by supplies furnished by the presbytery. This was considered as unfavorable and it was declared that should the Rev. W. H. McMillen, pastor of the Second, be compelled to administer pastoral duties to the younger church, his own congregation would suffer, and would probably lose in numbers.

A meeting of the congregation of the Ninth church was to have been held last night, following the regular Wednesday evening prayer meeting. Before the service had closed J. B. Simpson, of the Second church, arrived and announced immediately after the prayer service that the Second church had voted against the consolidation. No action was taken by the Ninth church congregation.

The latter recently lost its pastor, the Rev. J. M. Milligan, who accepted a call from Cleveland. The consolidation movement was started by prominent members of both churches, who gave as the reasons for consolidation the fact that both churches had in the past year or two been losing in membership. The migration to the suburbs is said to be responsible for the falling off in the membership of the churches. In both churches there exist two factions. The dominant one in each is opposed to consolidation, but the minority are still hopeful that their scheme will finally materialize.

NO AGREEMENT AS TO STRIKE

Workmen Refuse Terms Set Forth by the Builders Exchange League.

ANOTHER MEETING FRIDAY

The conference between the Builders' Exchange league and the Building Trades council yesterday did not terminate in a settlement. Another meeting will be held tomorrow at 1 o'clock, when the workmen are to give an answer to an ultimatum given by the league.

The committee representing the Building Trades council consisted of T. J. Williams, Edward F. Welsh, James J. McKee, N. T. Glass, E. P. Allman and Frank B. Smith. The league was represented by J. Charles Wilson, E. J. Detrick, S. Keighley, John A. Strouss, Joseph Weldon, E. T. Graham and P. LeCouilon.

The committee of workmen asked on what terms the employes would agree to end the strikes and lockouts. When given the terms the workmen's committee refused to accept them, and a discussion on the objectionable features lasted until 6 o'clock.

This morning the council committee will meet and prepare terms. After the conferences the committee of the Builders' Exchange league gave out the following statements:

In view of the conference given to the committee from the Building Trades council, which called on the committee from the league at 400 Market street, and made a request from this committee as to the reason for the attitude of the Builders' Exchange league in the present difficulties between the employers and the employes of labor throughout this territory, the committee met in session and drew up the following answer to this request, which answer was handed to the committee at a meeting this afternoon, and this committee feels that for the good of the public this declaration of the league, being a matter which interests the public and the future investor of capital, should be sent to the press and herewith give a copy of said letter, and hope that it will meet with the sympathies of the public at large interested in this problem.

E. J. DETRICK, Secretary.

To the Committee of Building Trades Council, Gentlemen:—In answer to your request for the league to define itself in its position as appertaining to your council we hand you here a copy of declaration of this committee in answer to your request as follows:

First—Inasmuch as the origin of the existing difficulty was the attitude of the Building Trades council in declaring that the work performed by the employes in the plumbing business was unfair and non-union and that you backed up this declaration by the power of your council in ordering out on sympathetic strikes all workmen engaged on buildings affected; therefore, the first consideration necessary to a settlement of the existing differences is for the Building Trades council to order back to work all men affiliated.

Second—the plumbers' strike for an advance in wages in view of the present condition of trade is unwarranted and should be reconsidered, and it is absolutely essential that this phase of the question should be settled along with the others; we insist that the proper committee both from the employers and the employes take this matter in hand and adjust it immediately.

Third—We insist that the sympathetic strikes be abolished; therefore the elimination of the sympathetic strike permanently is necessary to a settlement at the present time.

Fourth—There shall be no discrimination, no blacklist and no boycot—or any other form of coercion against trades or individuals interested directly or indirectly in the building trades on account of any events that may have transpired during the present difficulty. Your truly,

J. CHARLES WILSON, Chairman.

Witnesses Are in Quarantine.

Alderman W. F. Walsh is having further trouble in the prosecution of the three negroes, Will Braxton, Black Dean and Will Tennessee, whom he committed on Sunday for the alleged shooting of Sadie Bennett in Sheraden. District Attorney John C. Haymaker adjusted the matter so that Walsh could get the prisoners from jail for a hearing, but a new obstacle arose when it was found that the prosecuting witnesses are now in smallpox quarantine.

Fat Hugger at Large.

A man whose embrace is described to be "tighter than a bear's," and who has been dubbed "the hugger," has scared several girls in Homestead the last few nights. On Wednesday he stopped two and hugged them, and last night five others reported breathlessly to the police that a man had waddled up, given them a rapid but thorough embrace and then disappeared. To make his actions the more reprehensible, he is described as "being fat and middle-aged."

Meals Served in Coaches on Pennsylvania Railroad Day Trains Between Pittsburgh and Buffalo.

Beginning November 29, uniformed porters will be placed on Pennsylvania Railroad trains leaving Pittsburgh at 9:00 a. m. daily for Buffalo and leaving Buffalo at 8:45 a. m. daily for Pittsburgh. The coaches on these trains, which are now fitted with lavatories, will also be equipped with portable tables, and meals will be served to coach passengers by the train porters from the broiler buffet parlor car.

TROLLEY STRIKE ENDED AT LAST

Arbitration Agreement Ratified and Men Agree to Return to Work.

EACH GETS CONCESSIONS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Although a basis of settlement of the strike of the employes of the Chicago City Railway Company was decided upon at 1:30 o'clock this morning, and the agreement was ratified by the men a few hours later, not a single car is in service on the entire system tonight. The only cars operated today were manned by non-union crews under the same conditions that have prevailed since the inauguration of the strike a week ago last Thursday.

For some unexplained reason the management was not officially notified until tonight that the strike had been declared off. The electric linemen, firemen and engineers, cable splicers and coal teamsters returned to work tonight and tomorrow the road will be operated under normal conditions.

The agreement as ratified by the men and previously accepted by representatives of the company, provides for the settlement of the wage question by a board of arbitration. Their present wages are not to figure in the calculations, but instead a new scale is to be based on the market value of the men's services. As the company claims to pay the best wages the new arrangement, it is thought, may not result in an advance in the pay of the employes.

Clause 2 of the agreement provides for the betterment of working hours, the new running schedule to be arranged by the company in conference with a committee of trainmen. The company retains the right to run as many cars as are necessary, at all times "endeavoring always," the agreement runs, "to make the work as agreeable to the men as is consistent with the performance of its duty to the public."

The third and last clause provides that the strikers shall be taken back without prejudice. Membership in the union shall not constitute proper cause for discharge from the company's employment. With this exception the company retains the right to employ, discharge, or discipline its employes as it sees fit.

POOR TO BE FEASTED.

Salvation Army and Other Bodies Have Made Great Preparations.

The poor, who are unable to enjoy a real Thanksgiving dinner provided out of their own means, need not go without a feast today. The Salvation Army has outdone its previous efforts on behalf of their appetites, and will distribute hundreds of baskets containing a Thanksgiving dinner. A special Thanksgiving feast will be served at the rescue home, and the slum post in Negley's run will feed 250 residents.

Children have been invited to a dinner to be given by the National Sunshine legion, at Webster avenue and Grant street. At all the hospitals, homes for the aged and penal institutions the day will be celebrated by especially good dinners.

SEVEN BOYS MADE THEIR ESCAPE FROM MORGANZA

Separated When Returning from Field and Made Dash for Liberty.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 25.—Seven boys escaped from the Western Pennsylvania reform school at Morganza last evening in a daring manner. A squad of boys under two guards was engaged at work in a field about a mile from the Morganza buildings. As the return for the evening was about to be made seven of the boys separated and made a dash for liberty and got away.

Two went toward Pittsburgh, two toward McDonald, two toward Canonsburg, while one made in the direction of the reform school buildings. The entire force of guards at the institution immediately started on a search for the escaped prisoners, but they had not yet been captured tonight. The officers at the institution refuse to give out the names of the prisoners, none of whom is over 21 years old.

FIGHT FOR POSITION.

Suit to Enjoin East Liverpool Mayor from Making an Appointment.

LISBON, O., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The fight of John W. Wyman for his official position as chief of police of East Liverpool was fought out in court before Judge W. W. Hole, and after a hearing lasting until late last night on the petition for an injunction, the judge reserved his decision.

City Solicitor George E. Davidson asked the court to enjoin Mayor W. A. Weaver and the board of public safety of East Liverpool from appointing Wyman chief of police, a position he has been filling under a temporary appointment since last May. It was contended in the petition that Wyman was ineligible, not being a member of the police force, Weaver, the mayor, is a Prohibitionist, but Wyman is a Republican. He once served as county sheriff.

WORKMEN AID COMPANIES TO FORM CONSOLIDATION

Mountain District Glass Factories to Resume When Combination Is Effected.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

DUBOIS, PA., Nov. 25.—President John Phillips, Jr., of the American Window Glass Works association and four members of the executive board, James Pickles of Washington, Pa.; John Wangeman and E. H. Winters of Pittsburgh and Thomas Gray of Lancaster, Pa., arrived here this morning from Bradford, where they met yesterday in a joint meeting with representatives of the Western Pennsylvania manufacturers. The association officers remained until this afternoon, when they left for Brookville in pursuit of the business agreed upon, which was, if possible, to get the manufacturers at Brookville and Shinglehouse to join the other manufacturers of the mountain district in the scale.

Brookville operates 20 pots and Shinglehouse 60, and only the 90 are needed to complete the 1,500 which are necessary to harmonize the entire district and release a general order to fire up. President Phillips said: "You are the center here, and an adjustment means a great deal to DuBois. General Manager T. P. Welch of the Fitzpatrick and Mahler factories is with us. He was the chairman of our meeting yesterday, and we are helping him and he is helping us to get the work moving."

FROZEN IN MINE SHAFT.

Ten Men Suspended in Cage, Unable to Move, for Three Hours.

IRWIN, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Ten miners this afternoon almost perished with cold in a cage in the Yough shaft. The men entered the cage to be hauled to the surface, a distance of 200 feet. When about half way up the rope slipped off the drum and the elevator came to a stop. There was no way of escape or even of making themselves heard.

Cold draughts of air were forced down the shaft by the big fan which could not be stopped on account of the men below in the mine. Those in charge of the machinery were fully aware of the danger of the men in the cage and after repeated efforts a short rope was rigged up. It was only after three hours' labor that the cage was gotten to the surface. The men were barely able to get out, being benumbed by the cold.

WOMAN GETS DAMAGES.

Awarded $6,200 Against Prominent Business Man for Defamation of Character.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—In the local courts today Miss Grace Mankey of Washington was awarded $6,200 damages, for defamation of character, against Hugh L. Stocking, a prominent business man. Miss Mankey had asked for $10,000. The case had been tried once several months ago. Miss Mankey at that time receiving $2,500. Miss Mankey has a similar damage suit pending against Mrs. Mae Stocking, wife of Hugh L. Stocking, which will come up for trial in a few weeks.

Sentenced for Husband's Murder.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The court today sentenced Mary Booker, colored, to 18 years in the penitentiary. She was yesterday tried for the murder of her husband, Thomas Booker, who was shot and killed in his rooms on the night of July 3.

MONESSEN IS WITHOUT POLICE PROTECTION

Merchants Investing in Watch Dogs and Setting Spring Guns.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MONESSEN, PA., Nov. 25.—Merchants of this town, failing to secure protection from thieves at the hands of the police, are investing in watch dogs, setting spring guns and resorting to other primitive means of guarding their property. The town is infested by a gang of thieves and the depredations continue without abatement in spite of the fact that extra policemen have been employed on night turn. Council will be asked to further increase the force so that an effective patrol of the streets may be kept up.

No less than eight business houses have been entered within the past 10 days, and while the value of the plunder secured does not amount to many hundred dollars, the facility with which the thieves gain entrance has created a feeling of acute uneasiness. The following have recently been robbed: East Side Land Company, Ely Brothers shoe store, James E. White's bookstore, C. G. Murphy's store, Brooks' department store, Horton's plumbing shop and the Willison hardware store.

RECLAIMS AN INHERITANCE.

Man Missing Ten Years Turns Up and Sues for Estate.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Christian W. Ziegler, a former Hollidaysburg merchant, who mysteriously disappeared 10 years ago, appeared in the Blair county court today to establish his identity. Two years ago the court decreed that Ziegler was legally dead.

The object of the identification was to establish Ziegler's right to reclaim an inheritance of $2,000, which had been distributed among the relatives. Ziegler also entered suit to recover his money and filed a divorce proceeding against his wife, alleging that she had deserted him.

GOBBLER OF FIFTY-SEVEN POUNDS BROUGHT $100

SOMERSET, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—A majestic turkey gobbler, weighing 57½ pounds, brought $100 here today. It was owned by Attorney John R. Scott, who raffled it off with 100 chances, at $1 a chance and turned the proceeds over to a cemetery association which is fixing up an old cemetery in which lie the remains of a number of soldiers of the revolutionary and Mexican wars. Attorney Charles P. Uhl, Jr., held the lucky number, and is now the possessor of the big bird.

New Opera Stars Appear.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Although this was not the first night of the Metropolitan Opera Company's season, tonight's performance of "Die Walkure" was notable for the number of "firsts" in it. Felix Mottle, one of the most famous of the Wagner opera conductors, made his first appearance in America. Miss Olive Fremiad of Munich, Bavaria, also made her American debut as "Seleglinde."

Like a Diamond in the Sky

In the annals of medicine Kodol is up above the world so high that it is like a diamond in the sky. True merit has elevated this famous remedy to that position wherein it stands preeminently as the world's recognized cure for all disorders of the stomach and digestive organs.

Unlike all other remedies, Kodol combines the natural digestants with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. It does not purge the system. The weak should never be weakened and the sick should never be sickened. Such treatment gives temporary relief often, but permanent good never.

Immediate benefits follow the first dose, and perfect health is the permanent result derived from the use of Kodol.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat--makes the stomach sweet.

A LAWYER Five years ago dyspepsia took such a hold on me I could scarcely go. I took quantities of medicines, but nothing helped me. I tried Kodol, and improved at once. It cured me. GEORGE S. MARSH. Nodona, Tex.

A BANKER I suffered for four years with indigestion. After having almost despaired of ever getting well, Kodol was recommended to me. I began to improve at once. I am now taking the third bottle and I feel as well as I ever did. Can eat anything without bad effects. THOS. H. TAYLOR, Como, Miss.

A MERCHANT I suffered heart-burn and stomach trouble, caused by dyspepsia, have had some very bad attacks of same. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble. She lived entirely on warm water. Two bottles of Kodol cured her. As for myself, I am glad to say that a dose of Kodol always gives me instant relief. J. D. ERSKINE, Allenville, Mich.

A MINISTER For years I suffered from dyspepsia, growing worse and worse, until culminating in a bad case of ulceration of the stomach. Every known means, and many of the best physicians, were consulted. My people sent me to Europe. Each Hemorrhage left me weaker and weaker. Finally I was induced to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It relieved me beyond imagination. I am now using my third bottle, am preaching twice every Sunday, and thank God I expect to be well soon. W. P. LOPER, Earlville, Ia.

A DOCTOR After three years almost constant use of Kodol in hundreds of cases referable to faulty digestion and assimilation, I can truthfully say it is the most efficient combination for dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulence, nausea and all gastric disorders that it has been my good fortune to discover. My experience in a general and hospital practice dates from 1872, and of all the digestants prescribed in those thirty years, none in my hands have proved so thoroughly effective as Kodol. E. H. HAYES, M. D., Washington, D. C.

SHARP ATTACK BY FORMER PREMIER

Lord Rosebery Ridicules Chamberlain's Fiscal Policy Before Large Audiences.

THE GOVERNMENT IS BLAMED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Lord Rosebery spoke to 2,000 persons on the fiscal question at the Surrey theater tonight. There were 20,000 applications for tickets, the issue of which had to be limited to the capacity of the theater. Lord Rosebery afterward addressed a large overflow meeting. At both meetings he was given an enthusiastic reception and all through his speeches he was heartily cheered. Among those present at the meetings were a number of members of the house of commons and others prominent in British public life. His lordship's remarks were for the most part devoted to ridiculing Joseph Chamberlain and his policy.

"After last night's meeting at Queens-hall, which was attended by seven members of Lord Salisbury's government," said the speaker, "little can be added. The fiscal question must be solved and finally settled, and unless it is settled the dissolution of the parliament cannot long be delayed."

Lord Rosebery referred to Mr. Chamberlain as "a modern Jeremiah," whose assertions that the country had been desolated were refuted by the facts. Mr. Chamberlain said the country was ruined, while Mr. Balfour, on the other hand, said the country was extremely prosperous, but soon would be ruined. The board of trade blue book, however, had decided against both of these contentions. The speaker said that the condition of the people generally had been improved, while the workingmen were enjoying greater prosperity.

If distress existed in the country it was because of the unwise expenditures of the government which during the last decade had increased 62 per cent, while during the previous 10 years there had been an increase of only 7 per cent.

"Instead of curbing this growing expenditure," said Lord Rosebery, "Mr. Chamberlain discovered a disease which had no existence and proposed a remedy which would make the disease worse—namely, the increase in the cost of every commodity."

The real outcome of Mr. Chamberlain's policy, his lordship believed, would be a state of socialism. The cry of "dumping" applied to the large emporiums in this country which had killed the small traders. During recent years Canada had "dumped" into Great Britain nearly as much iron as all the "dumping" countries put together. A committee of experts, said the speaker, would have to distinguish between foreign and imperially "dumped" and "sweated" goods.

"The first result of Mr. Chamberlain's policy would be to plunge Great Britain into bitter fiscal warfare with our cousins in the United States, as the result of which Great Britain would lose everything and gain nothing. It would mean a practical severance and would blight the fairest hopes of the two nations."

In summing up, Lord Rosebery said that Mr. Chamberlain had not proved his case and that the evils of which he complained existed only in his imagination. A real remedy for any adverse conditions could be reached by stimulating practical, technical and commercial education, reducing the national expenditure and the drink-bill of the people, encouraging the growth of cotton within the empire, teaching commercial travelers how to study the tastes of the people they visited, and through other simple and practical steps, "which would be a better training for race competition than mandates for negotiation with foreign countries."

AGREED TO MURDER POLICEMEN ON SIGHT

Gustave Marx Says His "Pals" Will Not Be Taken Without Shooting.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—"More policemen will bite the dust before Pete Niedemeyer and Harvey Van Dine are caught. We all swore we would shoot to kill if any attempt was made to arrest us."

That is the warning that Gustave Marx, who last night confessed his share in the car barn murders and robbery, sounded today when he was told of the efforts set on foot by the police to find and capture the youths he named as his accomplices and of the institution of a world-wide search for them through circulars sent to the police of all the leading cities of the world.

"A few more policemen will bite the sod before they get my pals where they've got me," said Marx this afternoon. "That was our agreement—shoot a policeman on sight if he comes near you, and shoot to kill. We agreed that if one of us was ever arrested the other two would blow up the police station with dynamite and rescue him. But my partners, I guess, have gone back on me now. I think they are on the way to Nevada. They often spoke of going there."

These words Gustave Marx uttered as the funeral of his latest victim, Detective John Quinn, passed the Sheffield avenue station house where he is imprisoned.

CONDUCTORS ARRESTED.

Four Were Sent to Jail on Charges of Knocking Down Fares.

Four more Pittsburgh Railways Company conductors were arrested yesterday charged with knocking down fares. Edward H. Markwood, Harry Roessing, William Bell and Elden Worthen were taken from their cars and sent to jail to await trial on charges of felonious embezzlement preferred by Employment Agent W. H. O'Bryan. The first three named were employed on Millvale & Etna cars, while Worthen had a run on the Spring Garden route. For several weeks investigators have been on their trail.

Following so closely the case of Charles C. Davis, the Frankstown avenue conductor, who was sent three years to the penitentiary on similar charges, the arrest caused surprise. Markwood lives at 5238 Gertrude street, and came here from Ridgeville, W. Va. Roessing lives at 201 Iton street, Allegheny. Bell is another Allegheny and lives in Cherokee street. Worthen is a native of Columbus and lived at 621 Ohio street, Allegheny.

TURKEY SHOOT TODAY.

Choice Gobblers for Expert Rifle Handlers at Bruce Station.

A large crowd is expected at the turkey shoot to be given today at the Hotel Bruce, Bruce station. A lot of choice gobblers will be shot for, and the expert marksmen with the rifle will carry off the prizes.

The Hotel Bruce is a new one, and the opening function took place yesterday, when J. Fraser Grimm, the proprietor, gave a turkey supper to a large party of newspaper men. As the guests of Mr. Grimm, who proved an excellent host, the party left the Baltimore & Ohio railroad station at 3 p. m. in a special train, and 20 minutes after all were landed directly in front of the new $18,000 building. The whole place was given over to the newspaper men and for nearly four hours it was completely in their possession and they enjoyed themselves.

The Negro Gets His Vote.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 25.—The Alabama supreme court rendered a decision today permitting Peter Crenshaw, a negro federal soldier, to vote. The registrars of Limestone county refused to register Crenshaw under the new constitution.

Tin Workers' Wages Reduced.

Workmen employed in the Independent tin plate plant at Port Vue, near McKeesport, have been notified of a reduction of 20 per cent in wages. The plant has been closed for repairs for a week. A meeting of the employes will be held today to decide whether to accept the reduction.

ALASKAN ESQUIMOS ARE A WORTHLESS LOT

Gen. Funston Recommends That They Be Put Under Government Control.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Brig. Gen. Frederick Funston, commanding the department of Colorado, has submitted to the adjutant general of the army a report covering the results of his investigation of reports of destitution among natives of Alaska.

Most of the natives along the coast of Alaska, Gen. Funston says, belong to the Thlinket race. They are Indians, not Esquimos. He says there never has been any general destitution among them. But despite their general prosperity, Gen. Funston says, there are some discouraging features regarding their condition, the principal being tuberculosis and liquor.

The Yukon Indians are described to be in the most primitive state, but are honest and industrious. About the only reports of destitution among the natives of the interior of Alaska, Gen. Funston states, have been regarding those on Copper river, but his information was that these Indians were trifling and worthless.

Concerning the Alaskan Esquimo, Gen. Funston says his existence always has been a precarious one, dependent on his success in hunting and fishing. After the Esquimos obtained breech-loading rifles from the whalers in the seventies, caribou were slaughtered in the most reckless fashion. There is now, Gen. Funston says, a certain amount of destitution and occasional starvation among the Esquimos of Bering sea and Kotzebeau sound. The natives all but exterminated the caribou and also killed the walrus with the same reckless disregard of the future.

Gen. Funston says that under favorable conditions the reindeer enterprise in Alaska will remove any cause for destitution among the Esquimos, but that they are thriftless and improvident. He recommends they be put under control of the department of the interior and their aimless wandering and visits to mining towns and all settlements of white men be prevented. He advises that under no circumstances should rations be distributed to them gratuitously.

Negro Admitted He Had Served Time.

Assistant Superintendent of Police John Glenn of Allegheny yesterday received from a detective agency of Harrisburg a letter in reference to Williams, the negro in the North Side Central station. A photograph accompanied the letter, and it was stated that a negro of Williams' description had been arrested there over four years ago for porch climbing and had served four years. After being questioned by Glenn the negro confessed he was the man arrested in Harrisburg and said he had been released from the Eastern penitentiary only a few months ago.

PORTO RICAN APPEALS TO U. S. SUPREME COURT

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Nov. 25.—The first appeal of the supreme court of the United States granted by the supreme court of Porto Rico, from the denial of an application for a writ of habeas corpus is in behalf of Jose Manuel Lopez, a Republican leader, serving a term in the penitentiary for assault.

Blizzard in Lake Region.

MARQUETTE, MICH., Nov. 25.—A snow storm which has prevailed in this section for three days has turned into a blizzard and tonight is piling up large snowdrifts. Train service is much interrupted. A heavy sea is running on Lake Superior and a big fleet of boats is in here for shelter. The storm is general in Northern Michigan.

BEST CITIZENS WANT ORPHAN NOMINATION

What Members of New Political Organization Were Saying After the Meeting.

The Orphans' central organization met last night somewhere and after the meeting the announcement was made that reports were received from a number of wards in course of organization and that excellent progress was being made. A central headquarters will be opened in the downtown district in a few days and competent men will be placed in charge.

The Orphans say that many of the best citizens of the city have signified their intention of entering the field for the Orphans nomination for councils. A resolution was adopted at last night's meeting requesting each ward organization to appoint a conference committee of two men to confer with the central organization. Names of the committeemen should be sent to Charles S. Crawford, Bakewell building, secretary.

Henry Poke for select council and Jacob Soffel for common council is the Orphans' ticket talked of for the Thirty-second ward. Should Poke prefer not to run, Soffel may be a candidate for select council and a new man chosen for the nomination for the common branch.

The "Orphans" will hold a meeting in the Nineteenth ward tomorrow night to form a ward organization preparatory to the February campaign. Councilman W. H. Stevenson said yesterday that a strong organization would be formed in this ward, in which the Bigelows live.

St. Andrew's Men to Meet.

The Pittsburgh assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will hold its annual meeting for the election of officers in the Trinity church parish house, Sixth avenue, tomorrow at 8 p. m. Next Monday, St. Andrew's day, a conference and devotional meeting for all the seniors and juniors in the district will be held at 8 p. m. in the parish house. The members of each chapter in the district are urged by the president, Charles S. Shoemaker, to attend communion on Sunday.

Strike in Porto Rico Spreading.

SAN JUAN, P. R., Nov. 25.—The cigarmakers' strike is rapidly spreading on this island. Thirteen hundred men are out and more left work today. The factories at Caguas, Albonito, Cayey and San Juan are closing.

PLAYTHINGS WANTED FOR POOR CHILDREN

Toy Mission to Open Main Depot and to Send Out Appeals for Aid.

The toy mission, which annually gladdens the hearts of thousands of poor children by furnishing them playthings, will open its main depot at Sixth avenue and Grant street Monday. The mission was organized by Captain, now Major, R. W. A. Simmons in 1894. On that Christmas 2,500 children received presents. Last year 15,000 children were supplied.

The sick and crippled children are given the preference in the choice of toys. Cards will be sent out this week asking for donations. The appeal is for either toys or money. Second-hand or new toys are accepted. The cash donations are to be forwarded to George K. Stevenson or Maj. Simmons.

The greatest demand this year will be for dolls and children's shoes. Over 8,000 dolls will be needed.

MANY WILL MARRY ON THANKSGIVING

One Hundred and Twenty Couples Took Out Licenses to Wed Today.

ALL RECORDS WERE BROKEN

For the first time in the history of the marriage license office two establishments had to be arranged yesterday in order to take care of the business in the register's office. GARLAND CONGRATULATES PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Surveyor of Port of Pittsburgh Makes Call at the White House.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—M. M. Garland, surveyor of the port of Pittsburgh, was in Washington today and called upon the president at the White House. He assured Mr. Roosevelt that Pennsylvania was for him and would roll up a big majority for him in 1904.

Mr. Garland, who was at one time president of the Amalgamated association, took occasion to congratulate the president upon the stand he has taken with regard to the open shop at the government printing office. Said he: "I told the president that all intelligent and conservative labor-leaders agreed with him that he could not make the printing office a union shop, and that they did not expect him to do it.

"He represents all the people, and it would not be legal or proper for him to favor union men to this extent. President Roosevelt thanked me for what I told him and said that he tried to be just in his ruling and felt that he had done the right thing, although he supposed his action would be misconstrued by some people."

Mr. Garland called at the treasury department and at Senator Penrose's room. He left for Pittsburgh this evening.

It will be the sixth annual cantata concert by the society. The Oakland Choral union contains 60 members, who will be assisted by an orchestra of 24 pieces. The soloists will be Miss Hattie Jones, Mrs. Edith H. Scott, Samuel Scaddon, J. R. Roberts and W. A. Jones. J. H. Jones will be the accompanist.

SOUTH POLE EXPEDITION RETURNS TO GERMANY

Ready to Undertake Journey to North Pole With Commander Peary.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

KIEL, Nov. 25.—The German Antarctic exploring steamer Gauss, which Commander Peary, U. S. N., may possibly purchase for his north pole expedition, arrived here today. Prince Henry of Prussia was among those present at the welcoming ceremonies on board the vessel. The under-secretary of the interior greeted the members of the expedition in behalf of the government.

All the participants in the Gauss expedition returned with increased weight and declared they were ready to undertake another polar journey immediately. The ship brought back a full year's provisions.

The expedition carried on deep-sea studies continuously during the journeys to and from the Antarctic regions, showing that shallow seas prevail generally around the south pole. An ice-barrier which, threatened to permanently enclose the Gauss, broke February 9. The return journey from the newly discovered Gaussberg to Kiel lasted 209 days.

The expedition found the temperature ranging to 60 degrees below zero, to be without inconvenience. A tremendous amount of scientific material was secured, but years will be required to develop the results fully.

Emperor William telegraphed to Prof. Drygalski as follows: "I send you and the other members of the south pole expedition of the Gauss my imperial greetings on your return home and express my joy that all have, by God's will, arrived home safely."

Luxuries Cut Off Menu.

Plain food will hereafter be the feature of the menu supplied to persons under quarantine in Glassport. The board of health yesterday decided 30 cents a day was sufficient to supply each person. Bills ranging from $80 to $90 have been presented to the board for food supplied to families of three and four persons.

Going to Darkest African.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Samuel P. Verner, the African traveler and writer, sailed today under the auspices of the St. Louis exposition for the headwaters of the Congo and Zambesi rivers, where he will gather anthropological specimens for the exposition. He will travel about 1,500 miles inland. He is accompanied by two negroes.

BRYAN HONORED BY ENGLISH STATESMEN

They Attend Luncheon for Nebraskan Given by Ambassador Choate.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Ambassador Choate gave a luncheon to William Jennings Bryan today. Among the distinguished persons invited to meet Mr. Bryan were Premier Balfour, the earl of Onslow, Charles T. Ritchie, Sir Robert Giffen, Sir Gilbert Parker, Moreton Frewton, Lord Denbigh, Lord Mount Stephen and W. L. Courtney.

The luncheon was informal and no speeches were made. Mr. Bryan's powers as a story teller quite delighted the English guests. Whether it was done on purpose or otherwise, there was a touch of grim humor in the fact that Mr. Choate placed Mr. Bryan between Mr. Balfour and Mr. Ritchie, who had not met since the cabinet split.

Mr. Bryan has arranged to address a meeting at the Mansion House, Dublin, when he will be the guest of the lord mayor. No date for the meeting has been decided upon.

STRIKE LEADER JAILED.

Militia Takes Utah Miner's Organizer from Crowd at Bayonet's Point.

COLVILLE, UTAH, Nov. 25.—Lieut. Sorenson and a squad of 17 men with fixed bayonets took Charles Demolli, state organizer for the Western Federation of Miners, out of a crowd of 200 striking miners this afternoon, arresting him on a charge of disturbing the peace. Demolli was taken to the court house, where a heavy guard was thrown around the building.

He was found guilty and sentenced to 30 days in jail. Demolli was taken to Price later in custody of a detail of troops. The arrest caused considerable excitement.

Two-Headed Girl Born.

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—On Tuesday evening Mrs. William Gillespie of Phillipsburg, gave birth to a two-headed girl, perfectly formed, except for a slight deformity of the left foot. The two heads are perfect and are covered with black hair. The features are small and fine. The heads are on separate necks. The child was born dead.

THE COLLEGE ELEVENS ARE READAY FOR A STIRRING BATTLE

BOTH ELEVENS READY FOR GAME

State's Warriors Arrived Last Night and Wash.-Jeff. Will Get in Today.

BOTH TEAMS ARE CONFIDENT

Ideal Weather For Thanksgiving Day

Ideal football weather is promised Pittsburgh today. While the atmosphere will be just cold enough to keep the crowds on the sidelines kicking their toes, it will not be severe enough to dampen their enthusiasm or make watching the game uncomfortable. The punters in today's game will also be among those favored by the weather man, as he promises that the ball will not be sent out of bounds through any vagaries of air currents.

The State team arrived from college last night on a train that was one hour and ten minutes late, but even the delay in getting their evening meal failed to reduce the enthusiasm of the players. Every member of the squad of 20 seemed to be in high spirits and "Pop" Golden, the coach, said that it is a fact that all are confident of winning from W. & J. at Exposition park tomorrow.

"The games with the navy furnish the only clue to the relative strength of the teams," said he, "and I know that the scores indicate that W. & J. and State are even, but we are in fine shape and think we can win. I wish we had been as fit for the Dickinson game."

Manager Hollitzell of State furnished a sensation when he remarked that on Thursday evening he received a telegram from a coach at the University of West Virginia informing him that W. & J. was trying to induce some of the Virginia boys to come to Pittsburgh and play against State tomorrow. The message concluded with the words, "Nothing doing."

"I was sure some mistake had been made, but as W. & J. had not sent in its list of players according to our agreement signed when the game was arranged, I called up Manager Tutt over the long-distance telephone and told him of my telegram," said Hollitzell when asked for an explanation. "Mr. Tutt assured me that the list would be sent in not later than 5 o'clock and it was. The list is signed by President Moffat. I suppose the West Virginia man had good intentions, but he must have been misinformed."

The State football squad went to the Monongahela house where the following were registered: J. J. Hollitzell, manager; Pop Golden, coach; Forgun, Sanders, Elder, Campbell, Arbuthnot, Murphy, Bleecker, Smith, White, Woodward, Parry, Dunn, Yeckley, Wray, Waller, Capt. Whitworth, McIlveen and several others went home.

The Cadet band, a uniformed organization of 30 members went to the Colonial. A permit was obtained yesterday by the State alumni and this morning at 10:45 the students' band will march to the Monongahela house and serenade the team. About 20 students not connected with the team or the band were in the party that arrived last night, but the main crowd of State rooters will not arrive until this morning. There was a crowd of 100 or more at the Union station last night to greet the visitors and there were informal receptions at both hotels during the early hours of the evening. The team was not permitted to do much in the way of entertaining or being entertained for Coach Golden chased the entire squad to their rooms early.

One of the features of the visit of State will be its songs. Manager Hollitzell says that the students have been rehearsing faithfully ever since the game was arranged. To aid them a leaflet was published giving all of the songs and cheers. Said Manager Hollitzell: "We are fortunate," said he, "in being able to get Poe and Young to officiate for us. Where there is so much feeling between teams the selection of officials is most important."

Lieut. Holland of the Allegheny police bureau visited Exposition park yesterday afternoon and inspected the arrangements for keeping the crowd away from the side lines. There will be 20 officers on the grounds today and they will see that the teams have a clear field on which to play.

The gates at Exposition park will not open until 1 o'clock. The game will begin promptly at 2:30. As all of the officials have been chosen there will not be any excuse for delay. The teams will line up as follows:

FINLANDER HUNTING FOR HIS MISSING WIFE

A Finlander, John Kivikanervo, is hunting here for his wife, Ida Kivikanervo, 26 years old. About four weeks ago she came to this country with about $2,500 of her husband's money. In Finland the couple had conducted a massage and electric establishment. They sold a farm they owned to come to this country to conduct a similar establishment. The husband turned over the proceeds of the sale to his wife and went to the dock with her when she embarked for the United States. He said he would follow her in five days and would meet her in New York.

The woman arrived in New York and was met there by a former friend. The husband arrived five days later, but was unable to find his wife. The last he heard of her was that she came to Pittsburgh on Monday with his friend. Detectives James W. Eagan and George W. Cole have been looking for the woman, but have obtained no trace of her in Pittsburgh. A description of the woman has been sent to Conneaut, O., where there is a colony of Finlanders.

VESTAL STAKES WERE WALKOVER

Only Two Horses Started and Wild Thyme Found the Going a Good Thing.

REDFERN'S CLEVER RIDING

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Only two horses faced the starter in the Vestal stakes, which were little more than a walkover for Wild Thyme, the winner. There was no betting on the race, the favorite being quoted at 1 to 30. Redfern piloted four winners. Track fast. Summaries:

First race, all ages, 6½ furlongs—Robinhood, 100 Redfern, 3 to 2 and 3 to 5, won; Judith Campbell, 104, J. Walsh, 9 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; Easterman, 115, Bullman, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:22 3-5.

Third race, 3-year-old fillies, 1¼ miles—Wild Thyme, 116, Redfern, 1 to 30 and out, won; Nancy D., 111, Blake, 20 to 1, second. Time, 2:47.

Fourth race, 2-year-olds, 6 furlongs—Miss Melton, 99, E. Walsh, 12 to 1 and 4 to 1, won; Colleen Bawn, 104, Blake, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1, second; The Bowery, 107, Hoar, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:16.

Fifth race, 3-year-olds and up, mile—Buttons, 100, Redfern, 1 to 3 and out, won; Oxbury, 100, Olandt, 8 to 1 and even, second; Toscan, 100, Romanelli, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:42 3-5.

Sixth race, maiden 3-year-olds and upward, 1¼ miles—Heir Apparent, 95, W. Miller, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1, won; King B., 110, Fuller, even and 1 to 2, second; Mollie Monopole, 131, Bolson, 100 to 1, third. Time, 2:01.

Seventh race, 3-year-olds and upward, 7 furlongs—Court Maid, 105, E. Walsh, 6 to 1 and 5 to 2, won; The Guardsman, 110, Romanelli, 12 to 1 and 5 to 1, second; Cottage Maid, 105, O'Brien, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:29 1-5.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

All Flavel players will meet at P. & L. E. station at 1:30 to go to Coraopolis to play the Indians at that place.

The Dravosburg Reserves play the Brilliant A. C. of East End today at 1 o'clock on Dravosburg's grounds.

Bellevue wants 90 or 100-pound games for this morning and afternoon on home grounds. Phone 285, ring 1, Bellevue.

The Sherman Sense Grotto football team will play the Suburban A. C. this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Recreation park, South Side.

Ingram will play at Monaca today, and the players are earnestly requested to report at the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie depot at 1:30 sharp.

The Lincoln Tigers will line up against the Stanton A. C. on Lincoln Tigers' grounds for the 30-pound championship. Game called at 1 p. m.

Ingram will go to Monaca this afternoon to play the strong team of that place. All Ingram players please report at the P. & L. E. depot at 1:30 sharp.

The Sycamores will have two hard games today on the Phipps playground. They will play the North Sides in the morning at 10 o'clock and the Goehrings in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

All Allentown players are requested to report at Dr. W. C. Evans' office tonight at 7:30 sharp for practice, and to the corner of Liberty and Market streets Thursday morning at 9 o'clock sharp.

The Allegheny Field club goes to Kittanning today, and hope to celebrate Thanksgiving with another victory. The players and all rooters that are going should be at Union station not later than 8:45.

The Coraopolis Indians will play the Flavels this afternoon. The Indians are the champions of the out-of-town teams. A good game can be looked for, as both teams have been playing fast games all season.

The Clipper A. C. will play the Wittmer A. C. today. The winner of this game is to play Lyceum A. C. on November 28 for the 90-pound championship of Western Pennsylvania. Game called at 3 p. m.

The Pastime Reserves will play a double-header today. They will meet South Side Reserves at Herron Hill park at 10 o'clock sharp, and at 2 o'clock they will meet Emsworth Juniors at Emsworth for the championship of Western Pennsylvania.

Owing to cancellation by Ingram at the last moment it is doubtful if the Emsworth First team will be able to fill the date, but some team will likely be secured for at least a practice game at 3:30 p. m. Call up 50-3, Emsworth this evening for a game.

The Emsworth Juniors and Pastime Reserves will clash on Robb's field at 3 p. m. tomorrow and a warm contest is expected, as these are undoubtedly two of the strongest teams around Pittsburgh, and as both teams have a large following a good crowd is expected.

What promises to be one of the best games of the day between 90-pound teams, will be played this morning on the Phipps playgrounds, Allegheny, at 10 o'clock, when the North Sides and Sycamores clash for honors. Both teams have done fine work all season, neither having their goal line crossed.

The 85-pound championship of Western Pennsylvania will be decided today at Crescent park, Lexington avenue, at 10 10 a. m., between the Crescent A. C. of the East End and the Maplewood A. C. of Wilkinsburg. Neither team has been defeated this season, and so a good game is expected.

The Duquesne Grays and the East Homestead football teams will come together at Steel Works park, Homestead, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. This is expected to be one of the most spirited games played in the Monongahela Valley this season. The East Homesteaders have quite a record, while the Grays have been more than giving a good account of themselves this, their first season.

The Pequots of Allegheny have a hard day ahead of them. At 10 a. m. they will tackle the Monterey A. A. of the West End on W. U. P. grounds. After finishing this game the Pequots will hardly have time to do justice to turkey before they board a train for Beaver, where they are scheduled to play the Beaver College Preps. On Saturday the Pequots and Library A. C. will come together on W. U. P. grounds to settle the championship of Western Pennsylvania.

JUMPED OUT WINDOW.

Joseph Gallagher, a prisoner on his way to the penitentiary, escaped yesterday morning by jumping through the window of a car on a moving train in the Allegheny yards of the Pittsburgh & Western railroad. Sheriff P. W. Thompson and Deputy Sheriff Howard Curll of Clarion county had three prisoners in charge on the train, and when near the station Gallagher asked permission to go to the lavatory, which was granted. He had been gone no more than a minute when a crash was heard, and when the sheriff went to investigate he found the window broken and the prisoner gone.

Gallagher, who was sentenced one year on a charge of larceny, is a gypsy, is about six feet tall, has a crooked hand and has defective eyesight, the latter infirmity making his progress slow while walking.

FALL FROM CHAIR HAS FATAL RESULTS

Eliza Holden, 51 years old, of No. 4719 Hatfield street, died late last night at the West Penn hospital of injuries received by falling from a chair several days ago. She was for many years janitor at the Washington sub-district school building No. 3, in the Seventeenth ward.

PICKPOCKETS ON CARS.

Constable John J. Kavanaugh Gets Busy and Makes Arrests.

Pickpockets worked last night on crowded traction cars coming from Turtle Creek and robbed several persons. While Constable John J. Kavanaugh was riding on a car through East Pittsburgh he saw eight pickpockets at work. He grasped two men, whom he alleges to be thieves and the rest of the supposed gang jumped on him. The passengers came to Cavanaugh's assistance and helped him hold the two, while the other six escaped.

Kavanaugh took his men to Homestead where they were locked up. They gave the names of Joseph Murphy and James Anderson. On the same car on which Kavanaugh rode John Cattell of Robbinsdale street, North Braddock, was robbed of $42. Murphy and Anderson will have a hearnig before Burgess J. C. Miller tonight.

MICHIGAN TEAM READY TO TACKLE THE MAROONS

Coach Yost's Boys Promised a Christmas Trip to Coast If They Score a Victory.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Nov. 25.—The University of Michigan squad, accompanied by 2,000 loyal supporters, left Ann Arbor for Chicago this afternoon where to join in battle with their veteran gridiron rival, the University of Chicago, on Thanksgiving day. Twenty-four reserves accompanied the varsity, not that they are to be used, but merely to lend their moral assistent services. The university band accompanied the aggregation, which all in all formed a very enthusiastic jot.

Coach Stagg's interview after witnessing the Oberlin-Michigan game last Saturday to the effect that Michigan would have a walk-away against his team has found little credence here. Wednesday's practice, however, for graduates and varsity, emulating the example of their coach, show no signs of overconfidence. Whatever bets are made, no odds are given. Yost has forcefully heard his arouse an overconfident spirit in his opponents he has failed utterly. The men have been urged to put forth the best efforts of which they are capable, and an extra incentive they have been told that if Michigan acquits herself with credit on Turkey day the board of control may act favorably with reference to a trip to the coast during the Christmas vacation to play the University of California on New Year's day.

The officials for the Chicago game have, after several disappointments, been selected and are as follows: Leo Reinhart of Lafayette, umpire; Walbridge of Cornell, referee; Hoehner of Lake Forest, head linesman; McGugin, linesman for Michigan; Hammer, linesman for Chicago. The Michigan-Chicago game will be given a first kick-off will consist of Capt. Redden, L. E.; Curtis, L. T.; Shutte, L. G.; Gregory, C.; Gooding, R. G.; Maddock, R. T.; Hammond, R. E.; James, Q. B.; Boyce, L. H.; Graves, R. H.; Longman, F. B. Every man in the lineup is in the pink of physical condition.

DOWIE HAS MANY CREDITORS, INCLUDING H. J. HEINZ & CO.

WAUKEGAN, ILL., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Suits were filed against John Alexander Dowie here today for a total of $4,800 by numerous small creditors. The largest is the Seybold Machine Company of Ohio, $1,500; Habbett, Brown & Co., $1,000; H. J. Heinz Company, Library Bureau and Rosenwald & Well, $500 each. There is a strong report current that the holder of a $15,000 mortgage on the central part of Zion city is pressing for payment and may foreclose. This claim is secured by land on which is Dowie's fine home, the tabernacle, college, bank, general stores and other buildings.

MUNHALL POSTOFFICE TO BE KEPT SEPARATE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The postmaster general has revoked the order consolidating the postoffice at Munhall with the Homestead office and establishing station No. 1. The order was to have gone into effect December 1.

Missing Justice of Peace Located.

SHARON, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Justice of the Peace Cornelius Maxwell, who disappeared from South Sharon two weeks ago and who was thought to have met with foul play, was located in Chicago today. He made an effort to draw upon his account in the Colonial bank, but as the district attorney had attached the money the justice was refused. His sudden departure from South Sharon is unexplained.

CAMPBELL CHOSEN CAPTAIN OF HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN

Bunton Elected President of East Liberty Academy Athletic Association.

The Pittsburgh High school football team next season will be captained by George Campbell, the plucky center for the past two seasons. Campbell was elected over Charlie Harper, the retiring captain; Charles Bauer, a former captain, and Wallace Johns. Harper might have been re-elected, but he expects to graduate in June and by Will and Greer Orr, Harper said he did not care to again have the honor, but would play.

Two ballots were taken, the first showing five for Harper, three for Bauer, two votes for Johns and seven for Campbell. Johns was dropped for the second ballot and his strength was given to Campbell, he being declared elected by Coach "Shorty" James.

Kennedy "Pewee" Bunton was yesterday elected president of the athletic association at a spirited meeting held by the football academy. Bunton was chosen over William Cook by four votes, he getting 18 and Leak 14. Lew Edwards was third and Clyde Taylor fourth in the election. Bunton is captain of the football eleven and the hoop team, and will manage the baseball team next spring. Alex. McCracken, who will captain the nine next spring, is secretary of the association. The school monogram will be given to the football team next week. It is probable that only the men who played against Kiski will be awarded the letter.

Joe Thompson, the Geneva college captain, will referee the inter-city championship school game this afternoon at Friendship park. Nipling may be the umpire.

The East Liberty academy basketball candidates will be called out for practice Monday afternoon. An election for a captain and manager will be held next week.

The North Division High school squad of Chicago left last night for Brooklyn, where the Brooklyn Boys' school will be played Saturday.

James Lippincott has been elected captain of the Swarthmore eleven for next year. He has been on the varsity three years, is 20 years old and stands six feet three. He prepared at Penn Charter.

CORNELL'S EASY VICTORY.

Ithaca Athletes First in Cross-Country Run.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Cornell scored an easy victory in the event of the intercollegiate cross country championship six miles over the Travers Island course and through adjacent woods in the vicinity of New Rochelle today.

Thirty-nine athletes started and 34 finished, but H. M. Frank of Princeton, the twenty-fifth man to get home, was disqualified for failing to take the water jump. W. Schutte, the intercollegiate two-mile champion, was first across the line, his time being 33:15.

Cornell had seven representatives in the contest, and they all finished in the first seven, five of them in the first six. W. J. Hall of Yale finished third, and King of Harvard, bleeding freely from the effects of a bad fall, but not disqualified, finished fourth. Cornell took the team honors, but all of her men crossed the tape before any of the representatives of Columbia, Princeton or Pennsylvania.

The team scores were counted for each college in the positions that their first four representatives finished, Cornell winning with 12 points. Harvard was second, with 37, Yale third with 46, Princeton fourth with 76, Pennsylvania fifth with 100 and Columbia sixth with 112.

PENNSY AND CORNELL WILL BATTLE TODAY

Football Experts Are at Sea and Cannot Get a Line on the Strength of Teams.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—Pennsylvania and Cornell will meet in their last football game of the season on Franklin field tomorrow afternoon. In no game of the season will more interest be centered as to the probable result. With the season all but over, neither team has played a single game that might be used to compare their strength, and thus there are afloat many varied speculations as to the outcome.

Even Penn's supporters are divided as to the probable outcome, and, while all are hoping for a victory for the Red and Blue, nearly all are fearful of a defeat. This feeling of pessimism pervades the Cornell camp, and as a result little money has been wagered on the result. What betting there has been has been at even money.

Cornell's squad arrived here early today. Cornell held a light practice on Franklin field this afternoon and the football men who saw them work after that that they were forced to give up any idea of securing a line on the Cornell team. The Quakers took a day's recreation today.

BASKETBALL NOTES.

The South Side Midgets would like to hear from all 11 to 13-year-old teams having halls. Crescents, Manchester Midgets and Railroad Midgets preferred. Address Otto Schwarm, 1731 Frick building.

The Trentons would like to hear from all strong, 15 to 16-year-old teams having halls. The team has been playing steadily for its hard schedule in December, playing Homestead third on the 8th. Would like to hear from Knoxville for the coming week. Address A. Meyers, 28 Trent street, city.

One-Legged Men Fought Thieves.

James Crouse, the flagman employed at the Anderson street crossing of the West Penn railroad in Allegheny, was assaulted by two footpads shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning while on duty. He had but one leg, put up a hard fight and his cries attracted Policemen Morris Roach and Thomas Carroll. Crouse's watch chain was torn off, but he prevented the thieves taking his gold watch and some money. He was badly beaten and was taken to the Allegheny General hospital. Crouse lives at No. 1422 Beaver avenue, Allegheny.

House Destroyed and Owner Burned.

Fire destroyed the one-story frame building occupied by Henry Eichler in Chartiers avenue, McKees Rocks, yesterday morning, causing a loss of about $800. Eichler, who is about 70 years old, was seriously burned. Eichler used the front of the building for store purposes and the rear as a dwelling. His hair and beard were burned off and he was also badly burned about the body. He is now in the McKees Rocks General hospital in a critical condition.

Takes Position in Nova Scotia.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Nov. 25.—Austin King, for 10 years mine inspector for the H. C. Frick Coke Company at Leisenring No. 1, but for the last year general superintendent of the Inter-Terminal Railroad and Coke Company, with headquarters at Castle Shannon, has resigned his position to become general manager of the Dominion Coal and Coke Company of Nova Scotia. He left for his new field today.

INTER-CITY GAME WILL BE EXCITING

Cleveland Confident of Winning Championship Today at Friendship Park.

OTHER CONTESTS SCHEDULED

Where Big Local Teams Play Today

W. & J.-State	Exposition park
Cleveland-Pitts	Friendship park
East End-Franklin	Franklin
Primrose-Allent'n (am.)	Colosseum
Lyceum-Pastime	Bluff
East Liberty-Rayen	Youngstown

The West High school team of Cleveland, 17 strong, in fine condition and confident of winning the inter-city championship today at Friendship park, arrived in Pittsburgh last evening. The Cleveland boys have friends in this city and quite a number of them were at the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie depot when the train pulled in. Immediately upon their arrival they repaired to the Monongahela House, where the party is being quartered. Tonight both the Cleveland and Pittsburgh teams will be the guests of Manager A. S. McSwigan of the Duquesne garden.

The Cleveland boys are big and husky and very formidable looking. The State college team is also staying at the Monongahela House and the patrons of the hotel could hardly tell which was a college or prep. player. The visitors are ranked as one of the leading school teams in Ohio and they are confident of beating the Pittsburghers, but Capt. Price thinks otherwise.

Coach James yesterday put the boys through brisk practice at Friendship park. Clyde Scanor, the Kiski star arrived yesterday and got into the practice. Quite a number of Kiski students will come down from Saltsburg this morning to cheer for the Pittsburghers. Pittsburgh will start the game with the Shadyside team in action save Capt. Harper and Spuhler, the High school ends, and Sealy of Kiski. Otherwise it will be the Shadyside team. If the Clevelanders are getting away with the game, the Shadyside lineup will likely be put in, with the hope of "grandstanding" by using the famous Shadyside formations, which the visitors have never seen worked. The weight of the players and lineup for the kick-off at 2:30 are as follows:

Cleveland.		All-Pittsburgh.
Claflin, 160	L. E.	Spuhler, 158
Hud, 132	L. T.	Reese, 154
O'Donnell, 162	L. G.	Martin, 158
Dickson, 158	C.	McCutchion, 180
Sevmour, 165	R. G.	Budd, 170
Carey, 141	R. T.	Seanor, 180
Hudson, 145	R. E.	Harper, 145
Terrell, 150	Q. B.	Sealy, 150
Benmage, 150	R. H.	Donnolly, 135
Hopkinson, 150	R. H.	Ahl, 133
Fairbanks, 160	F. B.	Williams 147

Allentown will tackle the Primrose team at the Colosseum this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Primrose will try its best to win this game as it will play the East End Lyceum the following Saturday for the championship of Allegheny county. Lineup:

Primrose.		Allentown.
P. Boyle, Hill	R. E.	Lee
Blair	R. T.	Noah
Delp	R. G.	Etchley
H. Boyle	C.	Buck
Zeig	L. G.	Schiller
Smith, Stasser	L. T.	Mackintosh
Burt, Long	L. E.	Gray
Hilliard (Capt.)	Q. B.	Slick
Ross	R. H.	Bossler
Landis, Bitner	L. H.	Campbell
Elson	F. B.	Handy

The Lyceum and Pastimes are in fine form for the game this afternoon on the Pittsburgh college grounds. The teams will lineup as follows:

Lyceum.		Pastime A. C.
McMahon	L. E.	McElligott
Seaman	L. T.	Hartigan
Sweeney	L. G.	Deakin
Edkins, Reilly	C.	Woods
Kenna	R. G.	Pearson
McKeever	R. T.	McAllister
Roban, Gillespie	R. E.	McCormick
McInairy	L. H.	Butler, Anthony
Quinlan, Clark	R. H.	Barben
Toomey, Campbell	Q. B.	McAteer
Brassel, Dillon	F. B.	Cullison, Burk

Great interest is manifested around the Lyceum over the game this morning on the Bluff between the Progress and Lyceum Independents. These teams have not met for two years, when they played a 0-0 game. They will line up as follows:

Lyceum Independents.		Progress.
Heathley	L. E.	Powell
J. Smith	L. T.	Gaughan
J. Archer	L. G.	Niggle
Houston	C.	Mellon
Rinker	R. G.	O'Donnell
"Doc" Smith	R. T.	Gunn
Daly	R. E.	Clare
Hoheastolt	R. H.	Archer
D. McCann	L. H.	Witt
McGovern	F. B.	Deasy
Hobson	Q. B.	J. McCann

Subs—Progress, Hastings, Wise, Donley, O'Hara and McTighe. Independents—Carter, Couch and Wilson.

THE YALE BLACKLIST.

Several Students Named Who Claim That They Are Innocent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The so-called "blacklist," which was published today by the Yale football management, is full of errors, according to indignant men whose names appear. There was much surprise in the claim that several tickets allotted as a courtesy to players of the Holy Cross football team were found in the hands of speculators. Yale students are presently securing attorney and an old member of Yale, especially criticised the propriety of the blacklist and said today that the tickets secured in his name were to go him to friends. He denies having sold them.

Mr. Oxley also made protest to the management, saying that he gave the tickets to friends in Meadville for their own use. He could not say that they may not have exchanged them for better seats. The blacklist states that four seats were allotted to C. Palmer, a junior at Shaffer Preparatory school, which, with two others, were sold by speculators for $32. Eight other students are named, and it is said by the football management that a number of these may be pooled later.

G. A. Mears, an attorney who was named in the Yale blacklist, tonight proved by telegrams sent him by the friends for whom he secured tickets for the Yale-Harvard game that they used these tickets personally.

SOCIETY

THE skating season opened last night and today advantage will be taken of the Thanksgiving holiday and there will be skating morning, afternoon and evening in Duquesne Garden. Skating will come in for a large share of the attention, particularly of the younger people today. Family dinners will be the order of the day, with but little formal entertaining. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Darlington and Mr. and Mrs. Harmar D. Denny went early in the week to Concord, N. H., where they will spend today with their sons, who are in St. Paul's. The Thanksgiving recess is too short for many of the younger girls and boys in Pittsburgh families to come home, and it has become the custom with many of those who have sons and daughters at school in the east to journey to New York and to New England to be with them on that day.

The fashionable skating classes are being formed again this season and Duquesne Garden again is receiving the favor of society. Miss Stella Hays and Miss Roma Huselton have charge of the class of young girls and young married women who will meet on Tuesday mornings. The class this year will include the debutantes of the past two years and those of this season, together with some of the older girls and the young matrons. Among those who will be seen skating on those mornings are Miss Rebecca Darlington, Miss Virginia Bachman, Miss Mary Rhodes, Miss Annie Rhodes, Miss Laura McGuley, Miss Marion McLean, Miss Helen Earl, Miss Helen Horne, Miss Mary McCallam, Miss Nellie McCallam, Miss Bessie McCook, Miss Katherine McCook, Miss Eleanor McCook, Miss Jean McGinley, Miss Alice Schoentz, Mrs. James McClurg, Hays and Mrs. Andrew Mellon. The list will be larger after the class has held several meetings.

A class for the married women is being organized by Mrs. G. T. Clarkson and Mrs. Charles L. Taylor and will include about 40 married women and a few of the young girls. Among the number are Mrs. Omar Scott Decker and Mrs. Francis T. F. Lovejoy. Among those who have appeared frequently on the ice in other seasons are Mrs. Harmar D. Denny, Mrs. Henry L. Collins and Miss Magdeline Laughlin, and they are among the most graceful skaters in Pittsburgh.

Commandery Reception.

The first of the series of winter receptions given by the Pittsburgh commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, was held last evening in Syria temple, Washington street and Webster avenue. The reception was attended by several hundred people. There was dancing in the ballroom, with card tables for those who preferred to play, and supper was served in the banquet hall. The decorations were elaborate, consisting almost wholly of palms and ferns, with various devices of the order of the Knights Templar. This was the first of the series of four receptions which will be given during the winter, the others to follow on Friday evenings, January 22, February 12 and March 11. The committees having charge of the entertainments included the general committee, with William J. Griffith, chairman; Henry L. Dixon, James H. Lytle, Enoch W. Pitts, John Dimling, James W. Barber, Jacob Bentivick, August Daub, Edward Lewis, Homer C. Stewart, John F. Semmelroch, Frank McComb, Albert H. Eckert, Wilbur A. Lattimore, George P. Goodwin, George Dickson, Charles T. Moore and Louis W. Sperber. The other committees are as follows:

Reception—Harry C. Bierbrower, Frank L. Hoof, Charles J. Moye, Frank D. Troth, Robert E. Stone, George W. Hartman, William J. Knox, George H. Lysle, Frederick A. Faller, H. G. Porterfield, J. F. Moeder, Cyrus S. Youngson, J. H. Dimling, Allen Blaxter and W. P. Orr.

Entertainment—William Nagel, Orlando M. Hunter, William A. Seifert, Theodore Bollje, David L. Clark, J. J. Vimar, Thomas N. McKee, Thomas A. Wright, Charles E. Schueltz, J. Harry Dimling, George A. Dimling, Edward Hardie, Oliver P. Rank and Harry C. Estep.

Music—Fred A. Fischel, Edward Watkins, James S. Early, Henry T. F. Rohrkaste, Frank D. Troth, Walter F. Dizon, Daniel Beech, Frank R. Babcock, Frank C. Hampler, Francis O. Torrence, Morris L. Kelley and Edwin Winters.

Press—Eli Edmundson, Jr., Henry H. Miller, George Dickson, A. H. Sunshine, Fred Graf, Clarence V. Watkins, Joseph A. Henderson, William H. Rosenbarth, George W. G. Snyder, Oscar C. Granter, John J. Hetz, S. R. Borntrager, W. C. Wright and M. R. Hepplewhite.

Floor—Nathaniel A. Sutton, John C. Auchampaugh, Wilbur A. Kessler, Randolph Peale, Oliver G. Ferguson, Charles M. Johnstone, John C. Hill, Ralph A. Huggins, Thomas J. Jamison, J. Clyde Miller, J. H. Allabach, S. A. Baltz and Wilson C. Dickson.

Glasgow—Shaner.

One of the prettiest of yesterday's weddings was that of Miss Florence Glasgow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller Glasgow, and Elmer Reed Shaner of the East End, which took place in Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church, Allegheny. The bridal train included Miss Rachael Yerkes, a cousin of the bride, as maid of honor; and Miss Eza Covert, Miss Hale Covert, Miss Hattie Willett and Miss Virginia Johnston as bridesmaids; Miss Hazel Smart, flower girl; Charles A. Hall, best man, and J. Frank McHendry, C. Edward Schmidt, Walter F. Smart and Frank C. Taylor, ushers. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Ernest M. Paddock, rector of the church. The bride was attired in a gown of white crepe with a wide girdle of satin ribbon and long tulle veil. Her bouquet was of white roses and asparagus. The maid of honor wore pale green crepe, while gathered in her arm was a cluster of maidenhair fern. The bridesmaids wore gowns of white Persian lawn, their bouquets being of pink roses and their hats of white beaver and lace, trimmed with pink roses and plumes. The little flower girl wore a dainty frock of white lawn and Valenciennes lace. The members of the two families were later entertained at the home of the bride's parents. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Shaner will receive their friends in Coltart square. At home cards issued with the invitations announced days after December 8.

Davis—Morton.

The wedding of Miss Marie Forner Davis and Charles W. Morton of Homestead was a pretty event last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Davis in Darragh street, Oakland. The Rev. P. J. Cunningham of Burgettstown performed the ceremony at 7 o'clock. Miss Faye Davis attended her sister as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Ward and Miss Corinne Morton. Miss Helen Pew and Miss Mary Pew, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Pew of Wilkinsburg were the ribbon bearers. The ushers, J. R. Downs and Dr. Earsman completed the bridal party with the best man, W. H. Frye. The bridal gown was of white crepe meteor, made in princess style and trimmed with duchess lace. The veil was caught with orange blossoms and the only ornament was a diamond pin, the gift of the bridegroom. A bouquet of roses and valley lillies in shower effect was carried. Miss White volle was used for the honor maid's gown, and she carried a bouquet of pink and white chrysanthemums. Dainty frocks of white mull were worn by the little ribbon bearers. The same material served for the gowns of the bridesmaids, while their bouquets were of pink and white chrysanthemums. Pink and white were the wedding colors. After a wedding trip in the east and south Mr. Morton and his bride will be at home in McClure avenue, Homestead, after January 1.

Cochran—Sherrard.

Miss Lyda Reid Cochran and Robert Maurice Sherrard were quietly married last evening at the home of the bride's father, Charles Cochran, in Neville street. The father of the bridegroom, the Rev. Mr. Sherrard of Wilkinsburg, performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock in the presence of 100 guests. The only attendant was Miss Eleanor Linton as flower girl. The best man was Robert Orr and the ushers were Marshall Cochran and Stephen Blachley. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a white lace robe. She carried a shower of white roses and her only ornament was a pearl pin, the gift of the bridegroom. Little Miss Linton wore a frock of thin white with a sash of pink liberty silk. Her flowers were pink chrysanthemums. An informal reception followed the ceremony, after which the young couple left for the east. They will be at home in Neville street after December 15. At the rehearsal on Tuesday evening the bride presented her flower girl with a set of gold pins, and Mr. Sherrard gave his ushers jeweled stick pins. The bridegroom is a teacher in the Davis avenue school and is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college. His bride is a graduate of Hollidaysburg seminary.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Miss Sarah Verner Lloyd and Henry Hart Latshaw was announced yesterday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. Henry Grant Wheaton in honor of her niece, Miss Lloyd. The receiving hours were from 4 until 6 o'clock. Among those who had been asked to assist were Miss Frances Latshaw, Miss Alice Dennison, Miss Anica Humbird, Miss Marguerite Briggs, Mrs. Henry Lee Mason, Jr., Mrs. John McCune, Mrs. Murry Verner, Mrs. John Lloyd, Mrs. Charles Dickson, Mrs. Frank Laughlin, Mrs. James Darsie, Mrs. William H. Latshaw and Mrs. William M. Schmertz. Miss Lloyd is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lloyd of Homewood avenue and made her debut at a reception given last year by her mother. Mr. Latshaw is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hart Latshaw of Stanton avenue. No date has been spoken of for the wedding.

Will Live in England.

After a tour of a few weeks' length in the east, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Mendenhall will go to Manchester, England, to make their home. Their wedding was a quiet little event in the First United Presbyterian church, at 5 o'clock, with the Rev. Willis officiating. Mrs. Mendenhall was Miss Vickerman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vickerman of South Oakland square. Miss Anna Vickerman, was maid of honor and the only attendant. The bride's gown was of white crepe meteor, trimmed with duchess lace and orange blossoms and she wore a plumed aigrette in her hair. The maid of honor was gowned in pale blue and carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley. The bride has been one of the most popular teachers in the Oakland schools. Mr. Mendenhall went to England about a year ago in the employ of the Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing Company and returned only to claim his bride.

Goldsborough—Ross.

Miss Mary Josephine Goldsborough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Goldsborough of Oil City, and George Ross, Jr., of Pittsburgh were married yesterday in Christ Episcopal church, Oil City, the Rev. John Dows Hill, the rector, officiating. There were no attendants. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Among the out-of-town guests were Rev. and Mrs. Laurens McClure, Oakmont; Miss Louise McClure, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Barger, Youngstown, and Mrs. George Ross, Birmingham, Ala. At the conclusion of a southern wedding tour the couple will reside in Pittsburgh.

Robinson—Sherburne.

A pretty affair of last evening was the wedding of Miss Florence Gertrude Robinson and Franklin Dale Sherburne at the residence of the residence of the Rev. Ernest M. Paddock, North avenue, Allegheny. Mr. Sherburne is a former resident of Somerville, Mass., but has been connected with the Pressed Steel Car Company of this city for the past six months. The bride is also from Somerville. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only a small number of personal friends of the young people being in attendance. Clayton S. Evans acted as best man and Miss Sarah H. Evans as the bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Sherburne will be "at home" in Western avenue, Allegheny, after December 1.

Studebaker—Langdon.

Mrs. Jacob F. Studebaker, widow of one of the Studebaker brothers of South Bend, Ind., and Andrew Langdon, a prominent citizen of Buffalo, were married last evening at "Shadyside," the residence of Mrs. Studebaker's daughter, Mrs. E. Louis Kuhns, in South Bend. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis M. Banfil, rector of St. James Episcopal church. There were no attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Langdon left soon after the ceremony for the east and will sail from New York for Italy.

First Tonquin Dance.

The first in the winter series of dances given by the members of the Tonquin club was held last evening in the South Highland auditorium. The affair will be followed by equally enjoyable dances on New Year's evening, February 11, and Easter Tuesday. The members of the club in whose names the invitations were issued are C. G. Hartford, G. W. Glasgburn, W. J. Powell, H. C. Taylor, J. M. Clifford, A. W. Jones, C. W. Stoup, H. A. Linnenbrink, W. W. Miller, C. A. Bingaman and G. Sutzner.

Hammond—McClintock.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Hammond of Taylor avenue, Avalon, and William K. McClintock, formerly of Avalon, was solemnized last evening at the home of the bride's parents. It was a very quiet wedding because of the illness of the bride's brother, Mr. McClintock is connected with the Pennsylvania Company and also with the Alvin theater. Mr. and Mrs. McClintock will be at home after December 10 in their new home, Craft avenue, Crafton.

Harpst—Bell.

Miss Margaret Harpst of Braddock and Frank Bell of Youngstown, O., were married yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Brenden's Roman Catholic church, West Braddock, by the Rev. Father P. Molyneaux, the rector. The guests numbered about 200. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Catherine Harpst. George Bell of Youngstown was his brother's best man. After a wedding breakfast the couple left on a wedding tour and will live in Youngstown.

Cramp—Pell Nuptials.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Miss Florence Cramp of this city was married today to Mr. Theodore Roosevelt Pell of New York, the Rev. Marcus A. Brownson of the Tenth Presbyterian church officiating. After the ceremony, which was attended by the leading New York and Washington society people, Mr. and Mrs. Pell started on their honeymoon. They will reside in New York.

Cressler—Claney.

In Trinity Episcopal church, Chambersburg, Pa., yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Clifford Dickinson Claney of Pittsburgh and Miss Helen Saeger Cressler, a younger daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Cressler, were united in marriage, the Rev. Ernest V. Collins, rector of the church, officiating. The vested choir of 18 voices, including six Wilson students, sang the wedding march. The bride was formerly a student at Wilson college.

Cook—Foreman.

Miss Edythe Belle Cook of Cumberland, formerly of Cooks Mills, Pa., and Edward Holland Foreman of Pittsburgh, traveling salesman for a wholesale house of that city, were married yesterday afternoon by the Rev. W. W. Barnes at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Shoemaker, wife of Dr. G. C. Shoemaker. The couple will make their home in Parkersburg, W. Va.

Cox—Storey.

Miss Elizabeth Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cox of Brownsville, Pa., and Charles Storey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Storey, were wedded at the bride's home last evening at 8 o'clock. The Rev. W. E. Rambo, rector of Christ church, officiating. Moses Wright was best man and Miss Nannie Cox was her sister's bridesmaid. After an eastern wedding trip the couple will reside here.

Fox—Berlew.

Miss Nellie Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob C. Fox of Greensburg, Pa., and Jacob F. Berlew, a young business man, also of Greensburg, were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. C. R. Dieffenbacher, D. D., pastor of the First Reformed church, Youngstown.

Moore—Groves.

In the parish house of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church Oakland, last evening at 7:30 o'clock the wedding of Miss Moore and Newman Groves took place, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. E. H. Ward, D. D., rector of the church.

An Injunction Against Strikers.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 25.—Judge Carter, in the superior court today issued an injunction restraining the striking molders of the Indianapolis Foundry Company from interfering with the men who want to work. The company made the request, alleging that life and property were in danger. The company is resisting an effort to make its shop a union shop.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

PITTSBURGH club women are making an effort to unite in a movement for the erection of a women's club house. The New Era club has taken the initiative and yesterday afternoon appointed a committee, consisting of Miss Eva Moorhead Bard and Miss Suzanne Beatty, to communicate with other women's clubs in Pittsburgh and learn the sentiment with regard to the scheme. If it be found that a general feeling prevails in favor of the plan, a meeting of all the clubs will be called and steps taken for the formation of a stock company. The Wimodausis club has already a nucleus for a building fund for a home for itself, but if the club movement be a general one in favor of a joint club house, it will go into the project. Its scheme has been to erect a club house of its own, intending to rent to other clubs, thus making it a self-supporting institution. In the erection of a club house the Masons have already promised the Wimodausis club its aid, but this project will probably be abandoned if the other women's clubs unite for a general club home. The movement for a women's club house in Pittsburgh was started 10 years ago by the Women's club, which prepared a subscription paper which was circulated for a time, but with too little success to encourage the promoters. About four years ago the Wimodausis club determined to start a building fund, but the erection of Syria temple made it unnecessary for it to immediately put into operation its plan, the Masons offering the women a home in Syria temple as long as they cared to remain. The building fund has been steadily growing, however, the Wimodausis club frequently giving entertainments for that purpose. The demand for a women's club home has been felt for a number of years, the growth in the number of clubs in Western Pennsylvania being very rapid. The Central Young Women's Christian association has been the most accessible and the best meeting place available during that time. The Twentieth Century club has been considering buying or building for some time, having only leased the Laughlin property, its present home, in Duquesne way. The need of a large and general club house is apparent when it is remembered that there are in Western Pennsylvania 60 women's clubs which are members of the state federation, and over 40 of these are in Pittsburgh and the neighboring towns. The club house would also be the home of many of the patriotic women's societies and college clubs, none of which have permanent homes of their own.

New Era Club's Meeting.

The regular meeting of the New Era club was held yesterday, the art department having charge of the program, which was presented under the direction of Mrs. G. A. F. Ahlberg, chairman. Art in the drama, in music and in painting were discussed in a very general manner by the members of the club, after each division of the subject had been introduced. A debate on dramatic art was conducted, Miss Helen Grimes discussing its ethical value and Miss Nannie G. Barclay its evil influence. Mrs. Franklin Thomas gave a talk on "Living Musical Composers," confining her remarks principally to American composers and giving many personal reminiscences of men and women of distinction in the American field of musical composition. A critical study of the present exhibition of paintings in the Carnegie art galleries was given by Mrs. Robert W. Lynch. Miss Suzanne Beatty gave a short and informal talk on the "Power of Caricature Art." The music consisted of songs by Frank Milton Hunter, Miss Walters being the accompanist.

United Literary Clubs of Homestead.

Dr. J. D. Moffat, president of Washington & Jefferson college, will address the United Literary clubs of Homestead at their semi-annual meeting, December 4. Miss Kate C. McKnight and a score of other prominent club workers will be present. The organization is composed of nine clubs, with a total membership of 150. The Rev. Nathan Dushane Hynson is president and Mrs. Charles W. Ashley secretary and treasurer.

Lecture Before Sewickley Club.

The Woman's club of Sewickley held its regular meeting in the Edgeworth club yesterday afternoon. Dr. George Elliott Howard, professor at the University of Chicago, gave the third in his series of lectures on "Six Leaders of Social Freedom in England." His subject yesterday was John Wilkes. Mrs. Robert Wardrop presided at the meeting.

IN THE THEATERS.

Musical Comedy of English Origin, Melodrama, Comedy and Vaudeville Next Week.

A magnificent production of "A Country Girl," with Miss Helen Marvin, who played the title role in the original production of the play in London, will come to the Alvin theater next week, presented by the sterling Augustin Daly Musical Company, direct from Daly's theater, New York. The music is by the writers of the music of "San Toy," and "The Geisha," and the author of such hits as "Listen to the Band" and "Rhoda and Her Pagoda." This would be all the assurance necessary to the lover of good music, but additional promise is found in the universally triumphant reception given the play everywhere.

Native wit and humor, native characters and heroism, and abundant life and color combine to make "The Cowboy and the Lady," which will be given by the Grand Opera House stock company next week, one of the best American plays ever produced, and it has certainly helped to place Clyde Fitch, its author, in the front rank of American dramatists. It is one of his earliest successes, originally played by Nat C. Goodwin and Maxine Elliott. Mr. Ingersoll and Miss Taylor will have excentional opportunities, while the cast will introduce every member of the company.

The Empire theater offers next week Edward R. Mawson, in the melodramatic success, "The Pride of Jennico." The play has been pronounced fit to rank alongside of all the best known dramas of the romantic school which have been seen the light in the last decade. The play is original in treatment and plot, and although it is founded upon, and takes its title from, a novel, it is merely the chief incident in the novel which serves as the theme. New characters are introduced and the play owes all its success to the treatment it has received at the dramatist's hands.

"For Her Children's Sake," one of the most brilliant and successful melodrams ever written, which is from the pen of Theodore Kremer and produced by Sullivan, Harris & Woods, is announced for appearance at the Bijou next week, beginning Monday afternoon. The play tells the story of love, adventure, even tragedy, that holds the auditor breathless to the end.

Heading the bill of fifteen acts of refined vaudeville at the Avenue next week will be that excellent musical organization, the famous Fadettes woman orchestra, which attracted such large and fashionable audiences to the popular theater last season. Other features of a program of unusual strength will be Irving Jones; Callahan and Mack, in their quaint and artistic Irish specialty; Midgley and Carlisle; Haines and Vidocq, eccentric comedians; Cora Miskell and her pickaninnies.

Shean and Warren will head one of the best vaudeville shows that Manager Williams has had at the Duquesne theater this season. Other clever acts on the bill are: Ed Latell, musical artist; Keno, Walsh and Melrose, comedy acrobats; Belle Hathaway, with her trained monkeys and baboons; Harry Thompson, monologue artist; George E. Austin, comedy wire act; Miss Laura Bennett, Baker and Doyle, Myles McCarthy and Company, and others.

What is known as a first-class up-to-date burlesque and vaudeville organization is the "Merry Maidens" Company, which comes to the Academy for the week, beginning Monday, November 30. It is doubtful if a more attractive company will be seen here this season. The company this year is entirely new with the exception of jolly Nellie Hanly, who is a strong favorite with the public.

The Burton Holmes Lecture.

Tonight at Carnegie hall, Pittsburgh, and tomorrow evening at Carnegie, Allegheny, at 8:15 in both cities, Mr. Burton Holmes will give the second in his series of finely illustrated lectures, the subject being "The Yellowstone National Park, the Wonderland of America." This is the first time that Mr. Holmes has ever given this lecture in either Pittsburgh or Allegheny, and, as it is considered one of the finest in his entire repertory, it will doubtless prove as popular here as it has elsewhere. Mr. Holmes has made several journeys to and through the Yellowstone and his photographic achievements, especially in the motion pictures, are among the most realistic of his entire collection. The still pictures are finely colored and he has a large number of motion pictures.

J. H. GREENE ARRESTED IN RICHMOND, VA.

Word was received in McKeesport yesterday that J. H. Greene, the former confidential clerk for the H. C. & J. M. Skelley Company of McKeesport, is under arrest in Richmond, Va. Greene is charged with absconding with about $1,000 of the firm's money. Extradition papers have been prepared and a policeman will be sent to Richmond to bring back Greene. It is said Greene was located by detectives who have been shadowing Mrs. Greene. The latter was located in Philadelphia and was followed to Richmond, where she joined her husband.

Carnegie Library Open Today.

The Carnegie library building, Schenley park, will be open all day. The art galleries and museum will be open to the public from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., and the reference and reading rooms of the library from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. The circulating department of the library, however, will be closed all day.

Young Girls

Are often engaged in doing the work of a home under the most trying conditions. Nature cries out against the stooping and lifting, the running up and down stairs at times when labor should be as light as possible. It is owing to overstrain or self-neglect under these conditions that the foundation is laid for serious womanly disease. Irregularity is the first step to impaired womanly health.

Perfect regularity may be established by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will heal inflammation and ulceration and cure female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"It gives me much pleasure," writes Miss Ella Sapp, of Jamestown, Guilford County, N. C., "to thank Dr. Pierce for the great good received from the use of his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had suffered for three years or more at monthly periods. It seemed as though I would die with pains in my back and stomach. I could not stand at all without fainting. Had given up all hope of ever being cured, when one of my friends insisted upon my trying Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. With but little faith I tried it, and before I had taken half a bottle I felt better. Now I have taken two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I am entirely cured, and in two months' time when all other medicines had failed."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

EARS AGAIN RAIDED INDUSTRIAL STOCKS

Violent Breaks During the Morning Follow Sharp Recoveries During the Afternoon—Loans Easier and Sterling Declined.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Ample evidence was furnished by the course of yesterday's eastern stock market, that a strong bear party was taking advantage of the absence of buying power and prevailing distrust of industrials, to depress these stocks. At the opening vigorous raids were made against the entire industrial list, and numerous new low records were established before the end of the first hour. The raiders selected one stock after another which had escaped previous attention and hammered prices with impunity, apparently the only argument being that this or that stock was relatively higher than its fellows which had been under pressure. Thus Railway Steel Spring preferred broke on light transactions from 73 to 67. International Paper preferred broke from 61¾ to 57½, although the executive committee recommended the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. American Car Foundry preferred broke from 64 to 60½, and American Locomotive preferred from 73 to 68½. Of all the memoers of this group, United States Steel issues held the steadiest and declined only small fractions. While this movement was in progress the railroad list held steady, with Southern Railway and Southern Pacific displaying considerable strength. Then the market relapsed into extreme dullness, and throughout the middle portion of the day trading almost came to a standstill. In the afternoon a covering movement set in, and it was then demonstrated that the early selling had been for short account, or largely so. The bears found it difficult to buy, except by bidding prices up sharply, and the result was a complete recovery in most instances, while some industrial shares scored net gains over the day before. The railway list also became quite strong, and under the lead of Southern Railway, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific, advanced steadily to the close, which was in nearly every instance the highest of the day. A feature of the late dealings was the strength in Anaconda Copper, which rallied 6 per cent from the low point of the morning, selling up to 70. This helped Amalgamated Copper somewhat, which closed at a net gain of 1 per cent per day.

With the exception of two or three stocks, there was no news that warranted the pressure against the industrials. The break in International Paper preferred was ostensibly due to a report that the company had ordered a closing down of some of its mills on account of an accumulation of surplus. The application to the stock exchange by Railway Steel Spring for the privilege of listing additional securities was given as the reason for the break in that stock, and the decline in Colorado Fuel and Iron was connected with a report that the company had sold or contemplated the sale of coal and iron lands for the purpose of meeting its capital needs. The total sales of stocks for the day reached a trifle less than 500,000 shares.

A factor in the late recovery was the easier tendency in call loan rates, and the sharp decline in sterling exchange. Money had ruled at 6 and 7 per cent during the greater part of the day, but late in the afternoon declined to 3 per cent and closed at 2 per cent. Loans made yesterday would of course carry over until Friday, owing to the holiday today. One of the reasons for the recent advance in call loan rates is believed to be the policy of the banks in throwing out certain industrial stocks as collateral for loans and raising the rate on renewals of this class of loans. The decline in sterling is regarded as quite significant of the strong grasp this country has upon the gold supplies of Europe. At the close of last week sterling rates advanced because bankers were buying for investment. This buying was equivalent to loaning money abroad. Evidently the outgo of merchandise is of sufficient volume to again depress the rate. There were rumors just before the close of the market yesterday that a large engagement of gold for import, amounting to $5,000,000, had been made, but this was not confirmed. It probably had the effect, however, of causing the shorts, who had sold on money market prospects, to cover their contracts.

Although there were 20 different securities traded in yesterday on the Pittsburgh exchange, the total transactions amounted to only 1,900 shares stock and $12,000 bonds. The only active stock was Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which sold off to 60¾, but recovered to and closed at 61, a net loss of ¼. River Coal preferred was weak, declining to 25½. United States Steel preferred declined to 90⅝, but recovered to 91¾. Crucible Steel common rallied to 4, while the preferred closed unchanged at 30. The natural gas stocks were dull and only slightly changed. The Westinghouse stocks were also extremely dull, 5 shares Airbrake changing hands at 130, and only 50 shares Electric at 68¾. Pittsburgh Brewing 6s sold at 100¾@110; Monongahela Light and Power 5s advanced a fraction to 100⅛, while River Coal remained unchanged at 110. The market closed dull and barely steady.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

A somewhat firmer tone was reported in the local money market. This is believed to be due to the approaching end of the month, and to the desire of bankers to restore reserves to the full legal requirement before the period for the declaration of dividends on December 1. Bankers are also naturally desirous of clearing off their bills payable and rediscounts before the end of the year. One demand note stock brokers is at a minimum, practically all the business in local securities being for cash customers.

One-third of the total transactions on the local board yesterday were in Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which declined to 60¾, but recovered to 61 at the close. One house reported quite a borrowing demand for the stock, but whether for account of traders already "short," or for those contemplating "short" sales, could not be learned.

The Railway Steel Springs Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, on the preferred stock, payable December 21 to stock of record December 10.

The official notice of the declaration of the initial dividend on Calumet & Arizona states that it is a "quarterly dividend of $1 on a share and an extra dividend of 50 cents a share, payable December 19."

The official announcement of the results of the bond conversion syndicate's operations up to the termination of its contract with the Steel Corporation and the statement by Chairman Gary that a further call will be made at this time, show that on January 1, the Steel Corporation will have fixed charges as follows:

Interest on $503,757,000 5 per cent first mortgage bonds	$15,187,850
Sinking fund	3,040,000
Total	$18,227,850
Interest on $170,000,000 second 5 per cent bonds	$ 8,500,000
Sinking fund provision	1,010,000
Total	$ 9,510,000
Sinking fund bonds subsidiary Cos.	$ 624,000
Total all interest and sinking funds	$28,361,850
Depreciation and reserve funds	$24,774,389
Dividends preferred stock	25,200,000
Dividends common stock	10,160,000
Total	$88,496,239

The corporation will have in its treasury $80,000,000 of new 5 per cent second mortgage bonds, which it has authority to issue for $60,000,000 in exchange for preferred stock to be retired and to sell $20,000,000 for cash at par. While the $80,000,000 of bonds remain in the treasury the fixed charges of the corporation cannot be increased, and when the $5,000,000 is issued in exchange for a like amount of preferred stock, the fixed charges will be decreased just $1,000,000 a year. The difference between $50,000,000 at 7 per cent and the same amount at 5 per cent. The net earnings of the Steel Corporation for 1904 could fall $29,751,-998, below the estimate of $118,113,836 for this year, or $44,196,378 below the actual net earnings of $132,662,617 last year, and the corporation could still pay 7 per cent on the preferred stock and 2 per cent on the common stock.

The annual report of the Union Pacific railroad for the year ending June 30, 1903, with comparisons, follows: Gross earnings, $31,-070,185; increase, $3,674,909; operating expenses, $23,741,910; increase, $3,187,160; net earnings, $22,327,973; increase, $386,619; net surplus after deducting dividends and betterments, $4,043,474; increase, $627,514. This would indicate net earnings of over 10 per cent on the stock.

Bond sales on the New York board yesterday aggregated $2,200,000. United States refundings in the 2s old and new 4s declined ¼ and the 3s ½ per cent on the last call.

The purchases of American stock for foreign account in the five days amount to at least 100,000 shares, principally in Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio and Steel issues. The strength in Southern Railway in London yesterday was reflected here by large buying by a strong clique, the common stock having advanced over a point, and indicates that the Seaboard Air Line interests are in perfect accord with the Southern Railway.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Granby Consolidated mines has declared its first dividend of 1 per cent, payable December 16.

The production of the Amalgamated Copper Company is at the rate of 17,000,000 pounds per month, or 204,000,000 pounds per annum. The company has never exceeded this rate of production.

A full force of miners is not yet employed at the Amalgamated mines at Butte. There are several thousand fewer men at work than before the shut-down.

The estimate of the production of precious metals of the world in 1902 by the director of the mint does not differ greatly from the earlier estimates. The increase over 1901 was 1,616,000 ounces and the value of the gold produced was $295,882,000, as against $262,432,-000. The largest increase was, of course, in Africa, the mines in the Rand district having made an increase of 1,400,000 ounces over the previous year, when the war almost put a stop to gold production. Labor questions having been settled to a large extent, it is known that the African production will be largely increased this year. Australia was slightly ahead of the United States in gross output, but the value of our productions was slightly greater.

A new gold field has been made on the slope of Gold Flint mountain, near Clancy, Jefferson county, Montana, by W. Brown, a prospector, who has been drawing through an old and deserted claim. A considerable portion of the side of the tunnel had caved in, revealing a streak of one 10 inches wide in which free gold could easily be seen. Assays from the streak shows values of about four ounces of gold and more than 60 ounces of silver, making a ton of the rock worth about $130.

A strike has been made in the iron properties of James J. Hill near Wicks, Montana, on Clancy creek. They own 20 patented claims there, mostly iron properties, and development work has been going on two years. The strike was made on claims located for them two years ago by Martin Mulvahill. A tunnel has been run 400 feet, and a vein 20 feet wide has been struck containing gold, silver, coal and iron. About 13 feet is of high grade smelting ore. In the spring a concentrator will be placed on the property.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Spot tin advanced 17s, 6d to £116, 17s, 6d in London and futures there were £1 higher at £118, 5s. Locally tin was also firmer, closing at $25.88@25.66. Copper advanced £1, 10s, 6d in London, closing at £54 2s, 6d for spot and £55 for futures. The local market for copper is rather easier. Lake, electrolytic and casting are quoted at $12.25@12.75. Lead was unchanged at £11 in London and at $4.25 in New York. Spelter was unchanged here at $5.62½ and at £20, 12s, 6d in London. Iron closed at 49s in Glasgow and at 42s, 9d in Middlesboro. Locally iron was quiet. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $15.00@16.00; No. foundry northern at $14.00@15.00; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft at $13.50@14.

LOCAL FINANCIERS SEE GLASS-MAKING

Successful Operation of American Window Glass Machine Plant at Arnold.

A party consisting of about 75 of the most prominent local bankers, brokers and business men of Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon inspected the plant of the American Window Glass Machine Company at Arnold. There were also in the party several eastern representatives of the window glass trade. They were the guests of the officers and directors of the company, who took this opportunity to show the practical workings of the new glass-blowing machine.

The plant at Arnold, located on the Allegheny Valley railway, is known as the Chambers glass works, and is among the finest in the country. One of the factories is equipped with six of the new blowing machines in full operation, and the installation of two adjoining factories with eight machines each is nearing completion.

The simplicity and perfection of the machines in operation were a revelation to experts in the trade, who had been more or less skeptical of its practical success, while the economy in manufacture and the quality of the product immediately appealed to the business men who had no practical experience in glass-making, but who are quick to grasp the essential features of any trade.

The party witnessed the blowing of cylinders 15 feet long and 15 inches in diameter, the cutting of these cylinders into six-foot lengths with an electrical wire, the flattening, annealing, cutting and packing of the glass which finished the process being continuous from the time the glass leaves the liquid mixture until it is ready for the shipper. The use of the automatic machinery has eliminated a large percentage of the hand labor formerly required. The feature, however, which appeared to attract the greatest attention from experts in the trade was the facility with which glass made by the process being conducted without breakage, proving its ductility and strength. Even before the annealing process, six-foot cylinders were cut in strips by hand, in welding marks from two inches down to one-quarter of an inch, more quickly and accurately than one would tear a piece of muslin.

Officers of the company stated that there was also improvement in the demand for window glass, despite the depression in the building trade, explaining this by the statement that the dullness in building was confined mainly to the east and to the larger class of structures.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The market for coffee futures opend steady at unchanged prices to an advance of five points following smaller primary receipts. Bullish news and steady European markets, following the call trading was more active than recently owing chiefly to the issuance of December notices. These were out to the amount of some 70,000 bags and led to considerable switching from December to the late positions. The recognized bull houses, however, took up all the contracts thrown over and thus sustained the near months, while the demand for the late positions attending the switching operations naturally imparted a firmer tone to the late months. The market closed steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 10 points. Sales were 101,750 bags, including December 5 50@5 55; January at $5 65@5 70; March $5 80@5 85; May, $6 05@6 15; July, $6 25@6 30; September, $6 35@6 40; and October, $6 40@6 45.

Sugar, raw quiet, fair refining 3½c; centrifugal 96 test, 3¾c. Molasses sugar, 3c. Refined quiet, crushed, $5 05; powdered, $4 85; granulated, $4 45.

IRREGULAR RECOVERIES AT CLOSE OF MARKET

Early Weakness in Industrials Excited Unfavorable Influence.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says: Stocks were highly irregular yesterday and a market curtailment of activity. Dealings were largely of a professional character. The market closed with irregular recoveries after early pronounced weakness in the industrial division, which extended for a time unfavorable influence upon the entire list.

London prices came generally higher and foreigners bought all balances. Industrials were depressed at the opening and railways moved with them, but selling pressure relaxed at midday and efforts to cover short contracts and "cover up" commitments over the holiday influenced recoveries. Short covering was pronounced at the close on an unfounded report of heavy gold imports.

Call money touched 7 per cent and ruled at above 6½, but was offered down to 2 per cent at the close. Time money was strong at 6 per cent.

There was very little specific news to account for the marked declines in such manufacturing shares as American Locomotive, American Car and Foundry, Pressed Steel, Railway Steel Springs and the balance, which was again subjected to heavy pressure. It is noticed that there is a general tendency to make comparisons with United States Steel on the theory that steel and iron, being the barometer of trade, controlled the rest of the steel concerns. Wall street traders contented themselves with the statement that the strong concerns will pull through.

IMPROVED TONE IN IRON MARKET

Orders of Considerable Size Are Being Booked by Pittsburgh Producers.

FIRM PRICES ARE THE CAUSE

Firmness on the part of those who have entered the various price agreements is responsible for a great deal better tone in the iron and steel market than has existed locally for several months. The action of the furnace operators in restricting pig iron production has been one of the most marked instances of the kind. It was confidently predicted when the agreement was under discussion that it would be broken almost as soon as made, but this has not proved true in the Pittsburgh and central west districts. On the contrary, the reduction grows larger and by January 1 it will be not less than 75 per cent, figured on the basis of the 1902 production.

Buyers of pig iron are coming into the market. There have been a number of inquiries for large lots and one Pittsburgh broker has received orders for 5,500 tons this week. This came in two orders, one for 3,000 and one for 2,500. A large consumer says that he expects an increase in price after January 1 and gives this as the reason he is buying pig iron at present.

Billet Pool Strengthened.

The steel billet pool has taken on greater strength than ever, practically all of the important producers being now members. A great deal depends upon the action to be taken at the December meeting, but there is not thought to be any likelihood of serious differences arising so as to affect the strength of the pool. Prices are being held firmly on both Bessemer and open hearth billets at $23 the ton.

In the finished lines there is a very noticeable improvement. A strong independent company reports receiving during the week orders of good size for quite a variety of iron and steel articles. There is evidence of the coming year bringing considerable demand for structural steel. The pessimism that was so prevalent all this fall seems to be gradually wearing away under the belief that the bottom has been reached and that the underlying conditions are not such as to cause alarm. The panicky feeling has been abated by the willingness and tested ability of the strong concerns to take a firm grip on prices.

Steel billets remain unchanged from last week. There have been several meetings of the committee appointed two weeks ago by the operators to settle upon a policy that will prevent demoralization in the trade. This committee has been able to formulate a plan which is expected to satisfy the various elements that composed the operators' meeting. Notices will be sent out this week for a meeting of the operators on next Monday in this city and the committee will then make its report.

Coke Stocks Depleted.

What will be done in the matter is, of course, not to be told now. The plan provides for a restricted output, it is said, and goes even farther. It will not be made public until the operators have decided to adopt it, granting that such is their action, as seems probable.

Reports from the furnaces tell of depleted coke stocks. When the decision to reduce the furnace output was reached coke in stock was piled up. When the restriction is removed wholly or partly there will necessarily be a shortage of coke at the furnaces. The need to have a stock ahead, especially in the winter when transportation is liable to be poor, will make a rush not only to secure coke for current use, but to stock up. It is unlikely that coke prices will remain at the present level under such circumstances.

It is significant that those most closely in touch with the industry agree in looking for a marked change after the first of the year. The wage question is settled in many districts and the prices of the various lines for the year established still more firmly. The money market's tightness also is expected to loosen about that time and this will have a most marked effect in promoting the steel business. Many who would be glad to purchase now are undoubtedly held back by the scarcity of cash.

The large business in certain lines, notably wire and pipe, continues undiminished. Many of the plants that were closed down for repairs have been reopened, despite the assertions made when the closing orders were issued that there would be no more business for these plants for many months to come. The statement that the closing was for repairs has been proved in many cases to be the exact truth. Mills and furnaces both have been put in ship shape, the betterment being made very necessary by the long period of continuous work.

The Hardware Market.

The hardware business continues to move along in very good shape, orders for good quantities and for satisfactory lines continuing to come in, these orders covering practically all classes of goods. A very large business is being done in season goods, a great number of Albion stoves, Kahn stoves and ranges and a large quantity of tenders, fire shovels, poker, coal hods and such goods moving out constantly. In the line of season goods we also notice a very heavy continued movement on loaded shells and the shipments are coming forward apparently on these particular lines than for years, and in consequence a very large quantity of loaded shells and a very great number of shot guns are moving out. Business in wire nails and wire continues excellent, the demand for nails at times creating a condition that makes it difficult to fill orders as promptly as they should be filled. These nails are evidently going into construction to some extent, showing that building in sections is undoubtedly good. Good quantities of Albion tools continue to move and troubles from the same reason that mechanics in various lines are complaining of receiving good wages are able to buy good tools. Orders for window glass are coming in in fair quantities, the only difficulty being inability to find stocks and sizes to meet all demands. The scarcity of stocks will doubtless continue up to probably the first of the year, as there does not seem to be much likelihood of much jobbing trade before that time. Masury paints, colors and varnishes continue to move in the usual manner, quite a large number of orders being placed for spring shipments. Nothing in general way continue firm—some few exceptions in lines of iron and steel products showing some slight declines, but general lines of goods are being held at previous prices, and in some few instances slight advances are being made.

BETTER FEELING IN FOUNDRY IRON TRADE

Buyers Are Taking Hold of Southern Product for Forward Delivery.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Iron Age will tomorrow say: A somewhat better feeling is developing in the one department of the iron industry in which conditions are having their natural play, that being a section at least of the foundry iron trade. Buyers are taking hold of southern iron, considerable sales having been made east and west for forward delivery on the basis of $9 to $9 25, Birmingham. The attitude of southern sellers varies. A considerable number of them will not sell below $9 25 for early delivery, and others will not enter any orders for 1904 at current prices. But there is a good deal of iron being placed, particularly since very few producers north of the Potomac and of the Ohio will meet the competition of the Tennessee, Alabama and Virginia stacks. It will depend upon the developments of the next few weeks whether that attitude can be maintained, or whether the northern producers must surrender to the buyers.

The pig iron interests of the central west, so far as Bessemer and forge grades are concerned, show somewhat more activity, but at the expense of values which are lower.

Rumors are current that the agreement of the forthcoming bids for the Pennsylvania tunnel work. In the castings scrape is forbidden, so that the tonnage will be large. The furnaces are naming to them prices on about 240,000 tons, to be delivered over five years.

The steel market shows signs of weakness, there being some pressure to sell billet. A meeting of the billet maker is to be held in this city on December 16, at which the question of its extension into 1904 will be decided.

In the aggregate a considerable tonnage of American steel has been placed abroad already. English advices are to the effect that John Lysaght, the well-known English sheet manufacturer, has placed with the United States Steel Corporation an order for about 40,000 tons of sheet bars at 78 shillings 9 pence, delivered. It appears that middlemen are now offering German and American bars at 75 shillings for delivery next year.

The domestic rail trade is dull, and very little is doing for export. In the heavier lines, like plates and shapes, business is very quiet, and the mills could handle a good deal more work. Contractors show a disposition to hold off pertinently in hope of lower official prices later on. Some of the structural works have large contracts, which will engage a good part of their capacity later on. Among these are the 60,000-ton Blackwells Island bridge of the Pennsylvania Steel Company and a 30,000-ton Canadian bridge for the Phoenix Iron Company.

The independent tube makers met in Pittsburgh yesterday to discuss means for checking the cutting, chiefly on smaller sizes, but did nothing definite.

In the lighter lines, in which there were heavy cuts recently, notably bars, sheets, tin plate, etc., a moderate restoration of them is reported, the general attitude of buyers is still one of reserve. The eastern bar iron manufacturers are getting together.

The low prices at which scrap has gone begging in the east have attracted foreign users, and during the last week or two a good deal of inquiry has developed, notably from Italy. A number of dealers are reported to have effected sales, and the mills melting their scrap for shipment to that country.

Our New York machinery report shows that some very large contracts for power equipment have been placed, and that other large ones are pending.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 25.—Spirits turpentine firm at 56c. Rosin nothing doing. Tar firm at $1 80. Crude turpentine firm at $2 25@3 50.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The dry goods market has possessed a good deal of holiday character and buyers have not been desirous of operating under the present firm status of manufacturers and their agents. Until stocktaking, the present condition of buying is likely to obtain. Although jobbers have small stocks they are not likely to buy ahead further for their spring requirements.

The Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Cotton, spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 11.30c; do gulf, 11.55c; sales, 210 bales; futures closed steady; November, 11.01c; December, 11.03c; January, 11.10c; February, 11.12c; March, 11.16c; April, 11.18c; May, 11.19c; June, 11.15c; July, 11.14c; August, 10.89c.

PEOPLE DIDN'T BUY MANY HIGH-PRICED TURKEYS

Specialties in the Produce Market and California Dried Fruits in Demand.

Turkeys at the prices asked by dealers were not in strong demand yesterday, and instead of a shortage it is said that many will be left over. When people came to buy turkeys they found that the prices were more than they thought was right and in many instances outher poultry or meat was substituted, with the result that the market in turkeys was not what was expected. Too much was paid the farmers for turkeys this year, it is alleged, and they are the ones who have reaped a fair harvest.

Potatoes and onions are ruling strong, and cucumbers, celery and lettuce were in demand at the prices quoted which are a little higher than the quotations of the previous day. Apples are rather lower than at any other time this fall. There was a good demand for ripe bananas along the street yesterday and the small supply commanded good prices. California pears of the Easter Beauty variety are completing their season and are quoted at $1 25 to $1 50. Cabbage is in demand at the prices quoted.

California dried fruits are selling. Dried Lima beans are quoted lower than they have been for years on account of the good crop. Canned Lima beans, fresh stock of eastern goods, are scarce and the prices are high. There was a short crop in the east in these goods. Corn, succotash and canned California white cherries are ruling steady.

The market in hay and grain is about the same as yesterday. No changes are made in the quotations, but the market for hay and yellow ear corn, No. 2, continues firm. The receipts in hay were larger yesterday than in some time previous.

The Three Rivers

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 25.—The stage of the river at 6 p. m. today marked 16.5 feet and rising. The downward arrivals were the Tom Rees No. 2, George Matheson and Henry Debus. The Dave Wood passed up with empties. Business on the levee was brisker than for some time past. The Jim Brown had another stroke of ill luck. She came here three months ago to undergo repairs. On last Sunday as she was backing out into the river with a large tow of empties she blew out a cylinder-head and was forced to go to the bank again for repairs. Today when she was about to back out again on her way to Pittsburgh it was found that the deckhands and firemen had deserted their posts, it is claimed, on account of a cut in wages being posted. Capt. Menges was busy all day getting another crew together. The Alice Brown is due here tomorrow with a tow of empties from Louisville, bound for Pittsburgh.

MORGANTOWN—River, 7 feet 6 inches and falling.

OIL CITY—River, 2 feet 10 inches and falling.

STEUBENVILLE—River, 6 feet 7 inches and falling.

POINT PLEASANT—River, 7 feet and falling. Up, Crown, with empties.

GALLIPOLIS—River, 9 feet 6 inches and falling.

WARREN—River, 2 feet 5 inches.

GREENSBORO—River, 6 feet 6 inches and falling.

M'LAPIETTA—River, 7 feet and falling. Gilham, up; Volunteer, down; Kanawha, down; Greenland, up.

WILL HAVE DINNER AT HOME.

More rivermen will eat their Thanksgiving dinner at home this year than in many previous years. The pool boats are not as busy as is usual at this time of year, and more of the bigger steamers are near home. The water is falling in the local rivers, and not much work is being done by the coal companies in the harbor and upper pools. Towboats coming up the Ohio have to tie up before reaching the harbor. The Davis island dam will be all up by this noon and the harbor will begin to fill to a pool level.

The steamer H. P. Dilworth, owned by the Dilworth Coal Company, sank a loaded coal flat belonging to the local sales department of the Monongahela Connecting Coal & Coke Company at the Point landing yesterday morning. The Dilworth was coming out of the Allegheny river and struck the flat, which was on the outside of a fleet anchored at the landing.

Edgar Cherry, Demain, Morgantown.

Departures.

Keysone State, Knox, Cincinnati.
Edgar Cherry, Demain, Morgantown.

News of the Rivers.

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 6 o'clock last night was 5.5 feet and the river was stationary.

The steamer Maydower was brought into the harbor yesterday by Steamer W. H. Flint.

The Ben Hur is the down river packet due to land at the Water street wharf this morning.

The steamer G. W. Thomas passed Cincinnati yesterday, and the Oakland and Crescent arrived at Louisville.

The stage of water raised out of the Allegheny river near the lock on Herrs island dam last evening by Diver S. W. Carpenter.

The Charlie Turner pulled the J. E. Leonard and four loaded sand flats from the bar at Rochester yesterday. The Leonard returned to Pittsburgh and the Turner took the flats to Stubbenville. She returned last night and left for Paducah, Ky., with a tow of eight new empty coal barges, built by the Warren Lumber Company.

DULLNESS RULED THE CHICAGO GRAIN PITS

Wheat Ruled Easier on Profit Taking, but Corn Closed the Day Higher.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Trading in the wheat pit was of an evening-up character in preparation for the holiday tomorrow, and while there was little general commission trade, there was considerable adjustment among local traders. The only bull news of importance was the report that there had been general rains in Argentina and that the northwest receipts were lighter than a year ago, but this was sufficient to cause a little firmer feeling early in the day after a steady opening. May was unchanged to ¼c lower at the start, opening at 70¾c to 70⅝c, and after selling up to 71⅛c the market became easier on relaising by local traders. The sentiment in the pit was rather bearish and that the northwest receipts were influence both the larger primary receipts and the easier tone in outside markets. There was some selling by yesterday's buyers, and the demand was scattered. Primary receipts were 1,468,400 bushels, against 1,178,400 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 796 cars, against 658 cars last week, and 820 cars a year ago.

Corn was dull and heavy at prices easier at the start, but there was too much for sale, and prices soon yielded, the December option being the weaker. Covering by shorts was the feature of the opening firmness, but selling by provision interests and the continued weakness in low grade cash corn resulted in a slump in prices for December and May eased off in sympathy. Local receipts were 204 cars, with 20 of contract grade.

A slow dragging market with prices most of the time under last night's close was the order of the day in the oats pit. Little was done but evening up for the holiday and scalping by the pit crowd. The market was influenced largely by the action of other grains. Local receipts were 80 cars.

Provisions declined 5c on January lard and ribs by brokers supposed to be for the account of local packers caused weakness in provisions. There was little support and prices were lower for the entire list. January pork closed 22½c lower, at $11 00; January lard was off 10c at $8 27½, while ribs were down 12½c at $7 75.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 85 cars; corn, 225 cars; oats, 135 cars; hogs, 25,000 head.

Board will be closed tomorrow on account of Thanksgiving.

KILLED HUSBAND; WIFE GOES FREE

When Threatened With a Hatchet, Woman Used a Revolver With Fatal Result.

TWENTY YEARS FOR OLD MAN

Mrs. Louisa Pearsons was acquitted of the murder of her husband without offering any evidence in defense. They lived in Esplen, where on May 22, she shot and killed her husband, after he had visited her home with hatchet in hand, and threatened to kill her. Mrs. Nellie Mitchell, a daughter, testified the father would have killed her mother had she not fired. A number of other witnesses corroborated this testimony. No arguments were made and the jury stayed out but 15 minutes.

Judge Over, in the Ann Conlon estate, decided that Elizabeth Spratt and four other children of the testatrix are entitled to share in her estate, a trust relating to Thomas Conlon having terminated by reason of a legal presumption of his death. Attorney G. N. Monroe, Jr., represented Mrs. Spratt.

Charles Fish, a Millvale music teacher, 60 years old, was sentenced by Judge Rodgers to 20 years in the penitentiary for assaulting six girls whose ages range from six to 11 years. He pleaded guilty and told the court his wife was in the insane asylum and he some times thought he was crazy.

Captain C. E. Kemp was found not guilty of criminally libeling John Reeves, on a charge of writing a letter which caused him to lose a position with the Panhandle railroad but ordered to pay the costs. James Harris was convicted of burglary for breaking into the home of Elizabeth Cooper at Redmond Mills.

A. C. Hays, receiver for the Calivada Colonization Company, in answering the petition of A. B. Newell, C. A. Sheldon and A. A. Carpenter for the payment of claims, says that the cash balances on hand are necessary to conduct the colony's ranch in Nevada, and to sell property would entail loss.

Detectives for Gertie Wild have been unable to locate E. H. Berger to secure his presence at the trial of her case against himself and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. His testimony at a former trial was read to the jury. Attorney W. K. Jennings denies that he and Attorney S. S. Robertson nearly came to blows on Tuesday and says everything is very pleasant.

Schedules were filed in the United States district court showing Arthur Amelsen or the American Exchange Company's assets to be $4,182.47 and the unsecured claims $11,047.20.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Mary J. Reed recovered $9,000 from the Wabash railroad for damages to property. Attorney E. E. Fulmer represented her.

The third account of Martha C. Williams, executrix of Luther H. Williams has been filed. She charges herself with $184,788.

Libels in divorce were filed by Helene Lomoak against Charles Lomoak and Henry Hindley against Lillian P. Hipsley, on grounds of desertion.

Judge Frazer ordered Dr. R. V. Pitcairn, committee of Albert Pitcairn to pay Mrs. Pitcairn $600 per month to maintain herself and husband.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Peoples Credit Company vs. Marshall Ruff, $375, same vs. John Bates, $271 25; same vs. George Potter, $271 25; Benjamin H. Jordon vs. Michael Bolkovitch, $1,110 50.

The orphans court made a decree of distribution in the local estate of H. M. Bennett, formerly owner of the Bijou theater. The estate here consisted largely of an amount of cash in the hands of R. M. Quick, surviving partner. The amount is turned over to the executors.

A Bookcase That Is Artistic

A bookcase like the one shown in the above illustration embodies all that goes to create the refined and artistic in furniture making.

Its simple elegance lends tone to the room in which it is placed and shows good taste and judgment on the part of its possessor.

Those whose tastes run to books like to take good care of them. And to such persons this bookcase will appeal. Besides being tasteful and ornamental it is so constructed with commodious shelves and dust-proof doors as to afford the very best service.

This bookcase comes in either mahogany or golden oak; is 55 inches wide, 18 inches deep and 75 inches high; has fluted columns, claw feet and artistically carved top.

The stock includes many other charming designs of bookcases, including the sectional bookcases, and the prices of all are consistently moderate.

—All-wool French Flannels of the 50c and 59c grades—some with edges slightly soiled. Pink, old rose, red, blue and gray, suitable for kimonos, children's dresses and waists, for 25c yard.

—75c All-wool Homespuns, strictly all-wool, in grays, browns, tans and blue mixtures, serviceable for skirts and suits, cut from 75c to 49c yard.

Large Lace Collars For 59c—and Others, Too

—Large Venise Lace Collars, in assorted patterns, formerly $1 to $1.75, will drop out of sight after Friday and Saturday, because the price will be 59c these two days.

—Tuxedo Net Vellings (fifty pieces), black silk with black or white chenille or velvet spots. The 25c kind for 15c yard.

—Regular 75c and $1 Irish Point Table Squares and Bureau Scarfs—32-inch squares and 18x54-inch scarfs so much mussed from handling that you will have to wash them and press them out before using. Friday price, 39c each.

—Ladies' all-linen Initial Handkerchiefs, handsomely hemstitched with wreath and bow-knot embroidered around the initials. Value 15c. Two-day price 10c.

—Wrist Bags—A special lot of 150 regular 59c Bags, in walrus grain leather, with inside frames—black, gray, tan and brown, with nickeled frames, belt clasps and long chains. Special price 39c each.

—Hat Pins in sterling silver, with large floral and head designs, in the new French gray finish—long pins, really worth 50c—Friday & Saturday price 19c.

—Chiffon Foundation Stock Collars—the kind that sold like lightning at 10c—black or white, round or pointed—all heights and sizes. Two-day special at 6c.

—Ladies' 26-inch Umbrellas, in taffeta and serge silks, with steel rods and paragon frames, in Dresden, pearl, horn, Princess and natural wood handles. Regular $1.25 Umbrellas for 84c.

—All pure Silk Ribbons, in satin, taffeta or metallic taffeta finish, 3¼ inches wide, in a full range of colors as well as black and white. Value 20c—special price 12½c a yard.

—Colored Satin Ribbons that are all-silk and a full inch wide, in all the wanted shades—not at 7c, which is their real value, but for 4c a yard.

What! A Parlor Stand for Only 39c!

—One hundred Parlor Stands, with square tops, fancy turned legs and large undershelves, in rich golden oak finish, on sale nowhere else for less than 75c—Friday and Saturday price, 39c each. (As long as they hold out.)

—Fifty $4 Mattresses that are soft on both sides and can be used either side up. They are well filled, double-stitched, with bound edges and fancy striped ticking. You can buy one Friday for $2.50

—Ladies' Desks—made of selected oak, nicely finished, with large drop lids, pigeon holes, inside drawers and full-length drawers below the lids. French legs and shaped undershelves—not a toy desk, as the price might lead you to suspect. Only $3.98 each. Good for gifts.

—An Umbrella Stand saves the carpet from destructive drippings. We will sell some in solid oak frames, nicely finished, with brass drip-pans, on Friday and Saturday for $1.25. Good for gifts.
